

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

1931 - 1933

MARKEY & ASPLUND
BOOKBINDERS
Providence, R. I.

From the Front Campus, a Photo by George F. Bliven, '15

FEBRUARY
1933

Vol. XXXIII No. 7

BROWN

ALUMNI MONTHLY

FOUNDED IN 1900

Published monthly, August and September excepted, by the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY, Inc., at Brown University, Providence, R. I.
Entered at the Post Office, at Providence, R. I., as second-class matter, under the law of March, 3, 1879

GREAT WHITE FLEET

Guest Cruises TO THE WEST INDIES and CARIBBEAN

The 30th successful season for the Great White Fleet! Big spotless liners—led by six magnificent new ships—built for the tropics... with all outside rooms and latest type mechanical ventilation.

Intimate, informal cruises... "Every passenger a guest". Ashore, as afloat, you are given the same intelligent attention—far our representatives intimately know the tropics—and know how to show these countries to you. It's the pleasant way... and the wise way... to go.

from NEW YORK—A wide selection of cruises of 10 to 18 days or more—variously to HAVANA, JAMAICA, PANAMA, COLOMBIA, COSTA RICA, GUATEMALA, HONDURAS. Rates vary from $125 to $195 minimum. Sailings Thursdays and Saturdays.

from NEW ORLEANS—Cruises of 9 or 16 days or more variously to HAVANA, GUATEMALA, HONDURAS, PANAMA. Rates start at $97.50 minimum. Sailings Wednesdays and Saturdays.

No passports required. Optional shore excursions at all ports.

to and from CALIFORNIA—New York or New Orleans to California $200 up. Rates include maintenance at Isthmus between ship connections. $300 round trip, return ship or rail.

Write for our Golden Cruise and Silver Ship Books

UNITED FRUIT COMPANY

Pier 3, North River or 332 Fifth Ave., New York or any Authorized Tourist Agency

From the Brown Bookshelf

The New York Money Market

PERHAPS the most important recent work published in the field of economics, "The New York Money Market," is a thorough history and analysis of that "center for borrowed funds." Because the four-volume survey is comprehensive as well as analytical, its sponsors (the Columbia University Press, $16) rightly feel that it will not soon be superseded as a reference work for the veteran of the market and less initiated alike.

Citing President Hoover's charge that "our banking as a system has failed to meet this great emergency," the general editor, Benjamin Haggott Beckhart, predicts large-scale corrective experiments with the banking and credit structure of America. Grave developments in the international money market have drawn further attention to the subject.

The need for a survey of the New York money market was seen by the Columbia University Council for Research in the Social Sciences, and three authorities were asked to assist Professor Beckhart in the tremendous project. Professor William Adams Brown, Jr., of Brown University, Professor James G. Smith of Princeton, and Dr. Margaret G. Myers, a fellow of the Council, were the experts selected. Professor Brown contributes particularly to the volume on External and Internal Relations of the New York Market.

* * *

The University in the War

There are available to alumni several hundred copies of "Brown University in the War," a 75-page booklet published some years ago as a report of the War Records Committee. If there are alumni who have not seen this document and care to have a copy, they are invited to write to the Secretary of the Associated Alumni

* * *

Brown in Archaeology

SIXTEEN volumes will tell the story of the American excavations at Corinth when the Harvard University Press report of that work is complete. Prominent among the authors of Volume I of Corinth is Professor C. A. Robinson, Jr., of Brown, who participated extensively in the archaeological activities. Recent lectures by him in Providence have stressed the increasing part Brown is playing in archaeology.

The John Hay Library has received a considerable number of requests for exchange copies of Professor Robinson's "The Ephemerides of Alexander's Expedition," which is the first number of the new series of Brown University Studies. A recent request came from Lwow, Poland.

* * *

A Shark Hunter's Story

HORACE MAZET '26, manager of the mechanical department of Gotham House, Inc., publishers, 66 Fifth Avenue, New York, is co-author of "Shark! Shark!" a story of a 30-year odyssey of a pioneer shark hunter, with the history of the growth of the shark industry. Mazet's co-worker is Capt. William E. Young. The book is said to be a personal record of thrilling fights with monster sharks, travels all over the world to open shark-fishing stations and derive leather from the sea, the first authentic record of a popular nature of the lives and physical characteristics of sharks, a

(Continued on Page 191)

BROWN DIRECTORY

ABBOTT, '80 EDWARDS, '96

ABBOTT, FAUNTLEROY, CULLEN
& EDWARDS

Attorneys at Law

Tenth Floor,

Mississippi Valley Trust Building
506 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

ABBOTT, '15

PERRY, SAUNDERS & CHENEY

Counsellors at Law

185 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass

JOSEPH EARLE PERRY, WILLIAMS

ALBERT L. SAUNDERS, BROWN, '1902

EDWIN A. CHENEY, Boston Uni., 1917

ARTHUR S. HASSELL, '26

Sales Research

Market Analysis and Survey

109 George Street

Providence, R. I.

ARTHUR H. BLANCHARD, C. E., '99

CONSULTING ENGINEER

Highway Traffic Control

Highway Transport

Airport Runways and Landing Fields

Highway Engineering

Contract and Patent Lawsuits

18 University Avenue, Providence, R. I.

Commercial Banking Trust Department

Capital $500,000

Surplus and
Undivided Profits (over)...$1,000,000

BLACKSTONE CANAL NATIONAL BANK

Established 1831

20 MARKET SQUARE
PROVIDENCE, R. I.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Vol. XXXIII

PROVIDENCE, R. I., FEBRUARY, 1933

No. 7

Agenda for the Alumni Council

VISITING DAY at the University will be Wednesday, February 22, which is Washington's Birthday, and the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni will meet on that day, as well as in the evening of Tuesday, February 21. President Allen and the Executive Committee have been working on a program that is calculated to appeal to all members of the Council.

The make-up of the Council includes officers of the Associated Alumni; the vice-presidents of the five districts into which the country is divided; the Alumni Trustees, of whom there are thirteen at the present time; and representatives of the ALUMNI MONTHLY, the Association of Class Secretaries, the Faculty, and the Brown Clubs. It represents, indeed, the alumni as a body, and President Allen and his co-workers are anxious to have the attendance this year as large as possible.

The program now being fashioned in co-operation with officers of the University will start off with a supper meeting in Faunce House, Tuesday evening, February 21, with talks by University and Associated Alumni speakers to follow. There will be nominations for Alumni Trustees and for alumni member of the Athletic Council. The Brown Club of Providence will again act as host to visiting delegates.

The Alumni Trustees whose terms expire are: Clinton C. White '00 (Baptist); William Allan Dyer '86 (Episcopal); and Arthur W. Pinkham '02 (non-denominational). There is also a vacancy caused by the election of Dr. Rufus M. Jones (Quaker) as a permanent Trustee. George S. Burgess '12 retires from the Athletic Council in June after two years of fine service. None of the men mentioned is eligible for renomination until after the lapse of a year.

THE Washington's Birthday session will be devoted to discussion of specified problems, to balloting for Alumni Trustees and Athletic Council candidates, and to naming officers of the Associated Alumni who will take office next July. Now is the time for all members of the Advisory Council to plan to be on the Hill, February 21 and 22.

While the Alumni Council is meeting, members of the Visiting Committees will be carrying out a full program. The skeleton program is as follows:

- 9:00 a. m. Meeting of the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni.
- 9:25 a. m. Fifteen or more classes will be opened to the Visitors during these three class hours, and special lectures will be given in each of these courses. These lectures will be an integral part of the program of the course, but will also be so arranged as to be of interest to the Visitors.
- 12:25 p. m.

- 12:15 p. m. Luncheon in Faunce House Cafeteria for members of the Corporation, Faculty, and Visiting Committees.
- 1:15 p. m. Meeting in Faunce House Auditorium for members of the Corporation, Faculty and Visiting Committees. President Barbour, Vice-Presidents Mead and Adams, and Dean Arnold will speak.
- 2:15 p. m. Conferences with the departments of instruction. Visiting Committees will meet with the members of their respective departments in departmental headquarters.
- 2:30 p. m. Meeting of the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni with Officers of Administration in Faunce House Lounge.
- 4:30 p. m. Members of the Corporation, Faculty and Visiting Committees will reassemble in Faunce House Auditorium and Professor Leonard Carmichael will speak concerning the work of the Department of Psychology.
- 5:00 p. m. Adjournment.

PROFESSOR EMERITUS JOHN FRANCIS
GREENE
Died February 7, 1933

Riding the Storm

A Review of the University's Financial Situation in Recent Years and an Analysis of the Present Situation. Condensed from a Talk Given by Vice-President James P. Adams Before the Brown Club of Providence, and of Interest to All Alumni.

WE ARE receiving from all sides inquiries concerning the effect of the depression upon the colleges and universities of this country. Certainly this evidences a deep concern on the part of the public in general in the welfare of institutions of learning. But no group outside of the University can be more vitally concerned with the financial problems of Brown than are our own Alumni.

Before I outline the attempts which we have been making to meet the financial problems of the University, I should like to picture for you the general nature of its expenditures. The budgeted expenditures of the University and its several agencies, the Brown University Athletic Council and the Brown Union, totalled approximately $1,900,000 last year. This total was made up in part as follows:

Salaries, Pensions and Annuities	$920,000
Wages	140,000
Supplies and Equipment	95,000
Books and Periodicals	90,000
Maintenance and Repairs	90,000
Financial Aid to Students	150,000
Student Service	26,000
Extension	25,000
Student Welfare	30,000

You will be interested in a comparison between these figures and the budget of the University, then Rhode Island College, when it was in its 28th year. The first budget which I find itemized in the records of the Corporation applies to the academic year 1792-93, one hundred and forty years ago. It reads as follows:

Tuition Income	$1,188
Library	204
Interest on Fund	266
	<hr/>
	$1,658
Expenditures	1,076
	<hr/>
Surplusage	$582

IT WAS evident in 1926-1927 that ways and means must be found for increasing the income of the University to meet the requirements of an educational program designed to meet the needs of the present day. The program was deliberately set up and has been repeatedly defined, reviewed, approved and appraised in full recognition of its costs. For two years the increment of expense was covered by friends of the University. Financial plans for augmenting the income of the University were in progress, but, as you know, the depression intervened and we were obliged to direct our attention to the more immediate problem of consolidating the gains already made while facing the prospect of decreased income.

Those in close touch with the situation know that the results of the efforts of the past seven years have been substantial. The personnel of the Faculty has been distinctly strengthened; the educational program has been improved; the reputation of the University and her scholars has been enhanced; the spirit and morale of the institution, students, administration and Faculty has reached new high levels; the co-operation with the community has been advanced and its value recognized.

CAN BROWN WEATHER IT?
Vice President Adams Discusses University's Finances

It was evident in 1929-30 and in 1930-31 that plans must be made for the adjustment of expenditures to the present and prospective income of the University. As we faced the academic year 1931-32 it was obvious that a number of factors would influence the situation adversely. Noticeable reductions in income from investments had already taken place or were in prospect. The graduation in June, 1931, of the largest class in the history of the University meant a substantial reduction in the enrollment for 1931-32 in the face of a possible further decrease in numbers due to the industrial depression. In view of these considerations and others, further attempts were made to reduce expenditures for the academic year 1931-32.

WITH the prospect of decreased income from investments and decreased enrollment due to the industrial depression, it was obvious that very substantial reductions in budget appropriations for 1932-33 would be necessary if the deficit for the present year was to be kept even within sanctionable limits.

The budget for the present year approved in June carried appropriations less by $105,000 than the expenditures for the preceding year.

In accordance with a policy already outlined, blanket reductions in personnel and in departmental appropriations were avoided. While the staff of instruction was reduced in size, particularly in the junior grades, salaries of members of the Faculty were not reduced and sabbatic leaves were not postponed.

Appropriations for the purchase of books and journals for the libraries of the University were maintained, but substantial economies have been realized in administration and service departments of the library.

In view of the effects of the depression upon the financial resources of some students, appropriations for financial aid to undergraduates were increased by approximately 15% over expenditures for this purpose in 1931-32. We were very much pleased when we found that there was no decrease in enrollment this year. As you know the total enrollment of undergraduate men at the beginning of the year was 1297 as compared with 1286 last year, and the entering class numbered 398 as compared with 379 last year. While gross income from students will be maintained without large loss, the net income from this source will be appreciably decreased by the appropriations for financial aid already mentioned.

APPROPRIATIONS for the repair and improvement of buildings and grounds were reduced approximately 25%. Essential repairs are not being deferred, but no major improvements and betterments are being undertaken except when provided for by special funds. No new construction is being financed from income.

Every conceivable economy is being sought in the purchase and use of supplies and equipment and in the use of fuel, electric light and power and telephone service.

Economies have also been realized in the operation of the Department of Physical Education and in athletic activities. No important changes are contemplated in the program of intramural or intercollegiate athletics for the present year.

Since the beginning of the fiscal year we have been continuing our efforts in the interests of economy and decreased expenditures. As a result, our present plans call for total expenditures for the year substantially below the budget appropriations which were made in June, in the hope that this differential may provide a cushion for still further losses in income which were not only unforeseen but unforeseeable.

As a result of these reductions in expenditure, and with the aid of gifts to income from friends of the University, and notwithstanding the losses which we have sustained, it is our present hope that we can close the present year without a deficit.

Budgetary planning for the academic year 1933-34 has been under way for six months and further retrenchments have been proposed and have been agreed upon with full regard for the preservation of the essential elements of the University intact.

Charting Rhode Island's Business

At no time since its establishment more than a decade ago has the function of the Brown Bureau of Business Research seemed to possess such importance. This Bureau, which was the first of its kind in the country, has come to expand its activities and influence remarkably, as the following article by the Chairman of the Bureau's Board of Directors will reveal:

By ARTHUR L. PHILBRICK '03

AN excellent field for the co-ordination of the business activities of Rhode Island with the academic interests at Brown has been developed through the formation of the Brown Bureau of Business Research which has been in operation for eleven years. Manufacturers, merchants, and bankers in Providence and in other cities of Rhode Island were interested in a composite picture of the business conditions in the local area. Various agencies were presenting a mass of figures relating to the business affairs throughout the country, but reliable data concerning Rhode Island were not available.

The Brown Bureau of Business Research came into existence in part to meet this need. The Bureau was organized and began its work in 1922 very largely as a result of the efforts of Professor Ralph E. Badger, at that time a member of the Department of Economics. The Bureau is a co-operative research agency of the Department of Economics and the Providence Chamber of Commerce, each of which has representation on the Governing Board. The statistical and editorial work of the Bureau for the first few years was in the hands of Professor William A. Berridge.

The Bureau publishes once each month The Brown Business Service, an analysis of economic conditions in southeastern New England. From time to time it publishes a special report on a topic of current interest. The Business Service contains text material describing general conditions and also a number of charts and detailed statistics which have proved very useful to the business interests of Rhode Island.

The co-operation of these industrial organizations has been very enthusiastic. From various sources the Bureau is supplied with information, weekly or monthly, concerning the amount of cotton consumed, the number of cotton spindle hours, electric power purchased, the number of persons employed from week to week, labor turnover, payroll withdrawals from banks, the amount of bank debits, loans and discounts, demand deposits and savings deposits, post office receipts, number of freight cars loaded, number of business failures, sales of life insurance, department store sales, number of deeds recorded, amount of mortgage loans and other data. This information relates to the activities which affect the personal fortunes of a population of over 600,000 people located in the most densely populated and the most highly industrialized section of the country.

This mass of data is sent to the Brown Bureau, which has its headquarters in the Department of Economics at Brown, where it is tabulated and analyzed in order to obtain comparisons with analyses and tabulations of weeks and months and years before. From it all comes a composite picture, or to speak more truthfully, a moving picture, which presents to the subscribers of the Bureau an accurate record of all activities over a certain period of time.

Within the last two years, the necessity for an analysis of the course of industry as a whole in Rhode Island became very apparent. This was undertaken by Professor A. F. Hinrichs, Director of Research of the Bureau, and his assistant, Mr. H. W. Wilson, and is being further developed this year by Professor P. M. Brown. The resulting index, showing the industrial activity of Rhode Island from 1922 to date, is published in the Brown Business Service each month. For the purpose of comparison, the chart, which is shown in this issue of the ALUMNI MONTHLY, also contains the New York Times Annalist index of industrial activity for the United States.

CYCLES OF INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION IN RHODE ISLAND AND THE UNITED STATES

Charted by months from 1922 to date. A sample graph from the Brown Business Service, the information being compiled from standard economic statistical sources by the Brown Bureau of Business Research

Now the question naturally arises—Of what use are these figures and these deductions? How do the business men of Rhode Island look upon them? Is the Bureau's work restricted to a certain routine, or can it produce information of various sorts? The directors have sought by every means to ascertain the effect of the Bureau's work and the general impression regarding it. In the first place the Bureau has over 150 subscribers, each one of whom pays $10 per year. This number of firms and individuals thinks well enough of it to pay money in order to get the service. The Bureau does not ask for subscriptions on a basis of assisting Brown University or the Providence Chamber of Commerce. It sells the service on its merits.

Business enterprises of Rhode Island make frequent calls upon the Bureau for information relating to their own industries. The publication of all facts relating to each industry is out of the question because of the expense involved, but all of the data is available for the use of persons interested. Much of the information that the Bureau receives is confidential in character, and it publishes and releases such data only in the form of composite totals and indexes.

The data which the Bureau has are of many kinds and are useful for many purposes. An investigation into the unemployment situation of Rhode Island, inaugurated by former Governor Norman S. Case, depended largely upon the Brown Bureau for its data. The Pawtucket Chamber of Commerce desired to ascertain the volume of purchasing which is being done by Pawtucket people within the city and outside of the city, and they asked the Brown Bureau for information on that subject, and it was given. An individual of the State of Rhode Island became interested in the comparative wealth and income of the people in Rhode Island from one year to another over a series of years, and the Brown Bureau made up the tabulations and submitted a report to him on that subject.

The fact is, there is a mass of material gathered each week by the Bureau which the research director and his assistants cannot publish because of the lack of funds. Therefore, it can be said that the Bureau is continually accumulating economic information which may be drawn upon from time to time as the necessity arises.

The importance of the information supplied by the Bureau is revealed in the amount of space given to it by Providence newspapers. Salient facts are taken from each bulletin and published on the financial pages of these papers, and credit is always given to the Bureau as the source of information. Recently one of the bulletins was of such interest that the Associated Press published a summary of it which was used in at least forty newspapers throughout the country. One of these newspapers was as far distant as Fort Worth, Texas, and newspapers all over the Middle West and along the Atlantic seacoast contained this story, due credit being given to the Brown Bureau.

The Bureau occupies an important position in one of the industrial centers of the country. It renders its services at a modest cost to those who receive its benefits. This small cost is due to the financial support given to the Bureau by Brown University and the Providence Chamber of Commerce.

This Bureau was the first of its kind in the country, but many others, based on the idea of co-operation of a university with industry, have been started since. The Bureau hopes to enlarge the scope of its contribution to the business life of southeastern New England.

The Chicago Club Answers "Yes"

CHICAGO has fallen promptly into line, too. The Brown Club of Providence first pledged a regional scholarship to the University under the terms urged by the Associated Alumni, and it had hardly been announced last month that a successful membership campaign had enabled it to make good its promise when further heartening news came from the Middle West. The Brown University Club of Chicago will also give a prize scholarship of $500 for the academic year 1933-1934.

As was the case with the award made possible by the Providence Club, the new scholarship will carry the name of the contributing club, and it will go to a student who "combines in the highest degree, scholastic ability, desirable qualities of personality, capacity for leadership, and promise of future usefulness." It is believed that the scholarship will serve to attract to Brown some particularly outstanding boy from the Chicago region. The award is to be made without regard to the financial need of the recipient, since it is wholly of a competitive and honorary nature.

Although the award of the Chicago and Providence clubs is bestowed on the boy in his first year only, the University has greatly enhanced the value of the scholarships by providing substantial aid for recipients in their second, third and fourth years in college.

Any recipient who, during the preceding year, maintains an academic average putting him in the upper tenth of his class, will receive a scholarship of $400. A recipient standing in the second tenth will get $300, and one in the third tenth will receive $200.

An applicant, in order to be eligible, must either be in a school in the city or sphere of the club, or a resident of the city or surrounding territory. The club committee on the scholarship will interview all applicants personally, and will co-operate fully with the director of admissions at Brown.

THE committee of the Brown Club of Providence is Sidney Clifford, President, Dr. Emery M. Porter, Albert E. Leach, and W. Easton Louttit, Jr. The members of the Chicago Brown Club committee are Col. Noble B. Judah, former United States Ambassador to Cuba; Ralph G. Johnson, president; and Ralph M. Brown. Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow, acting director of admissions at Brown, will serve on both committees.

The Brown Club Prize Scholarships are a supplement to the John Hay Scholarships established by the University two years ago. There are at present five of the John Hay Scholarships, paying $400 a year each. Named in memory of former Secretary of State John Hay, graduate of Brown in 1858, they are awarded to students from outside Rhode Island of outstanding personality, ability and promise. The Freshman group this year includes James G. France, Kent, Ohio; Leigh B. Lynch, Detroit, Mich.; Richard L. Sweet, Jr., Yonkers, N. Y.; John R. Davis, Scranton, Pa.; and John D. Glover, Washington, D. C.

The Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni, in annual meeting in February, 1932, warmly endorsed the idea of the John Hay Scholarships, and members advocated that Brown Clubs contribute scholarships of their own, based on the principles of the John Hay awards. The chief proponent was President Harvey N. Davis of Stevens Institute of Technology, graduate of Brown in 1901.

In accord with the vote taken, President James S. Allen of the Associated Alumni named a committee made up of President Davis, Charles C. Tillinghast of the Horace Mann School, New York, Charles J. Hill, Dean C. H. Currier, and Victor A. Schwartz, Providence, chairman, to formulate plans for award of club scholarships. The Brown clubs will follow these plans in making their selections.

* * * * *

Geologists from Brown

THE Geological Society of America and its two affiliates, the Paleontological Society and the Mineralogical Society, held their annual three-day meetings in Cambridge at the end of December, with the Boston Geological Society as host. During all or part of the time of the sessions there was a large attendance of former and present graduate students or instructors of the Department of Geology at the University. Of the present personnel, Professor C. W. Brown, Drs. Quinn and Branson, Miss Leonard, J. A. Young, Jr., W. O. J. Roberts, attended regularly.

Others who have worked for degrees or have been instructors in the department were C. G. Doll '24, instructor at the University of Vermont; Dr. Lawrence Whitcomb '22, instructor at Lehigh; Dr. A. C. Hawkins (Ph.D. '16), Associate Professor at Rutgers; Arthur F. Buddington '12, Associate Professor at Princeton; Dr. R. T. D. Wickenden '26, micropaleontologist with the Canada Geological Survey; F. E. Fahlquist '23, geologist engineer with the Metropolitan Water Supply, Boston; Professor Nelson C. Dale '09, advanced, head of the Geological Department, Hamilton College; Althea W. Page '28, A. B. Cleaves '27, and F. M. Chace '28, all of whom are in the graduate school in geology at Harvard; Constance A. Candee '30, Clarence E. Miller, M. T. Patton '32; and former members of the instructing staff, Dr. Bradford Willard of the Pennsylvania Geological Survey; Professor R. M. Field of Princeton; Professor L. W. Fisher, in charge of geology at Bates. Professor Brown was treasurer of the local committee, chairman of the press committee, and, at the request of President Daly of the Society, chairman at one of the meetings.

* * * * *

Massachusetts' New G. O. P. Leader

ONE Brown man has succeeded another as chairman of the Republican State Committee of Massachusetts. Out has stepped Amos L. Taylor '01, and in has come Carl A. Terry '15. With the backing of John Richardson, national committeeman, and Representative C. A. Herter, who have been working together to reorganize the Republican party in Massachusetts, Terry was named to the chairmanship after a warm contest. He said later that he wanted it understood that there had not been any victory for him in the real sense of the word, and that he was asking the co-operation of every member in order so to "administer the affairs of the committee that we may merit success in the future."

"Mr. Terry will make an able chairman," Mr. Richardson said. "In character and ability he is qualified for the work. Although not yet 40 years of age, he has been vitally interested in the Republican party for the past 20 years."

Terry, a lawyer in Fall River, has a fine background for his new work. His uncle, the late Edward A. Thurston '93, once held the office that he himself now holds. Thurston schooled him in the ways of politics and in the art of dealing with individuals. Terry remembers these lessons, and he has a wealth of experience of his own to add to his early training. In Fall River he has taken active part in local politics chiefly for the sake of getting good men nominated and elected to city and county offices. His judgment is sound; he is a good listener. He has a quiet, easy manner which inspires confidence.

Taylor, whose son is a Sophomore at Brown, has returned to his law practice in Belmont after having been at the head of party affairs for three years.

Dr. King Follows His Chief

DR. EUGENE P. KING '76, Second Deputy Superintendent of Health of Providence, resigned the first of the year, the resignation to take effect when a successor is appointed and qualified. It will probably be some time next month before King steps down after having been connected with the Health Department for 47 years and after having served side by side with his classmate and friend, Dr. Charles V. Chapin, during most of that period. He has been an able, efficient and always friendly official; he has played his part splendidly in making the Health Department of Providence one of the best in the United States.

Brunonia Plays the Game

BEFORE the lull set in when mid-year exams demanded emphasis on certain non-athletic matters, Brown indoor sports teams had won 21 of their first 36 scheduled encounters. The varsity swimmers, with a particularly strong line-up and some record-breaking performers, had yet to meet even close competition, while the freshman hockey and basketball teams were undefeated at the end of the term.

The basketball varsity had won several courageous fights that gave it a favorable balance of five victories out of eight, and the wrestlers had met defeat only once.

In trouncing M. I. T. 55-22, the swimmers broke New England records which they already held in the 150-yard medley relay and the 200-yard relay. In the former event the new mark is 3 minutes 15 3/5 seconds as against 3 minutes 21 seconds, and the other record was reduced from 1:40 1/5 to 1:37 1/5. Lyman, the Brown diver, piled up a brilliant total of 110 to take first in his specialty. Lewis took both dashes, while Stanton won the breast stroke. Swimmers on the record-breaking relay teams were Stanton, Hickey, Lee, Cook, White and Lewis, Lee doing double duty and Lewis competing after his two dash victories.

Springfield had been unbeaten until the Brown swimmers broke four more New England marks and two tank records to win 50-27. Stanton, Hickey and Lee made up the medley relay team which did the event in 3:15, while Lee, Cook, White and Lewis swam the 160-yard relay in the new time of 1:15 2/5. Lee's 5:30 in the 440 and Lewis' 55 seconds in the 100 were new sectional records, the latter beating Davy Jones' old time of 55 2/5 seconds. Beatty of Williams had been the fastest performer in the 440 previously, in 5:31 2/5. Lewis' 19.1 seconds in the 40-yard dash and Stanton's 1:44.5 in the backstroke were good enough to break pool marks at McCurdy pool, Springfield.

LAST MINUTE victories over Boston University and Connecticut Aggies were features of the first half of the court schedule, although Northeastern, Clark and Wesleyan have also been repulsed. Games have been dropped to Tufts, M. I. T. and Worcester Tech. A field goal by Tucker in the last 20 seconds of play beat the Aggies 31 to 29, while Karaban and Malkowski each scored in the last 10 seconds for a 42-41 triumph over B. U. Malkowski scored 17 of the 42 points in the latter game, with Floren, the season's high scorer, adding 12, and Captain Hammer, 9. The captain, whose leg is none too strong, has been used sparingly.

A strong comeback gave the team a victory over Wesleyan 38-30 after trailing 20-14 at the first interval. The W. P. I. game was lost after the lead had see-sawed constantly. The Brunonians had overcome an eight-point lead to go ahead 25-23, but were bottled up in the last 10 minutes while the engineers were winning 41-32. Morse, who made 19 points against M. I. T., was the only player on the Bruin quintet whose eye was on the basket, and the adverse score was 54-42.

HAY was the only Brown winner while Harvard was administering a 25-3 trimming to the wrestling team, but it won its other meets handily, defeating Springfield 22-13 by taking the last five bouts after losing the first three, and conceding B. U. only one bout in winning 33-5. Hay, the Brown heavyweight, has yet to be beaten this season, while Woodward and Impagliazzo have won twice.

One-sided losses to Yale and Harvard do not enhance the hockey record, but there are victories over Massachusetts State 4-3, New Hampshire 3-0, and Northeastern 6-4, to set against the four defeats. B. U. won 4-0, St. Mary's 5-1, Harvard 15-3, and Yale 11-0. Against St. Mary's All-American goalie, Brown could do little, but the defense held the strong Minnesota team in check until the end of the game, three goals coming in the last seven minutes. Hargrove's counter in the overtime period beat Massachusetts State. Legg has been the leading scorer, with Chace, Hunt, Johnson, and Hargrove also figuring.

HAVING bowed to Northeastern and having beaten Worcester Tech in indoor dual meets, the track squad turned its attention to Boston and New York games. The one-mile relay team outran Tufts, B. U., and Gordon College at the Prout games in Boston held in memory of the former Brown track star. Spinney, Stiles, Firsching and Lee made up the quartet. Hurdles and dash entries did not place, nor did Lee in the special 1000 in which he had been invited to run against a fast field that included Bullwinkle, Phil Edwards, and other stars. McGovern, high-jumper, was forced out at 6 feet 1 inch.

Against Northeastern, which won 43-29, Tom Gilbane set a new indoor record for the 16-pound shot, 47 feet 6 1/8 inches, surpassing that effort the following Saturday when the team was beating W. P. I. 42 1/2-34 1/2. His indoor record now stands at 48 feet 7 3/4 inches. Al Lee broke the mark for the 1000 in 2:23 4/5, which supplants Kearns' 2:27 4/5 made in 1928. Other first place winners for Brown in the two meets were Firsching in the mile, Moore and Rowell in the high jump, and Peterson in the 45-yard dash.

THE freshman basketball five has run its string of victories to four, accounting for M. I. T. 1936, 40-34; Connecticut State 1936, 43-39; B. U. 1936, 50-42; and St. George's, 48-12. McGovern, who made 87 points in the four games, is the offensive star. Against B. U. he scored 30 points.

The yearling swimmers have performed creditably, although the lack of a single entrant in the dives has handicapped them in each meet. They beat M. I. T. 1936 41-24 and lost to Worcester Academy 25-34 and St. George's 28-39. Everall in the breast stroke and Jones in the back-stroke have been consistent winners. The freshmen wrestlers boast no consistent winners, having lost to Springfield 1936 10-28, Harvard 1936 0-36, and Providence high schools 3-28.

A strong first-year hockey team won both of its first meetings, with Cranston High 2-1 and Hope High 5-1. Hart, Shepherd, Dear, Appleyard, Olney and Fallon are the regular starters. Against the Northeastern yearling track team the cubs went down 31-41, turning on Dean Academy, however, to win 44-19. In the latter meet Davis tied the Brown indoor record in the 45-yard dash which has been made by George Troy, Spinney, Balmer, and Straight—5 1/5 seconds. McGovern's high-jumping also holds promise.

A new venture in intercollegiate athletics for Brown will begin on February 24 when a boxing team faces Rhode Island State College. A return match is in prospect for March.

* * * * *

McLaughry's Staff Reappointed

WITH the reappointment of four assistant coaches, a continuation of the McLaughry system under the same staff was assured for the 1933 football season at Brown. The Athletic Council has renamed Dr. Walter H. Snell, Paul H. Hodge, E. Thurston Towle, and Brenton G. Smith, all of whom played for Brown as undergraduates. Coach McLaughry is to conduct a summer school for coaches in conjunction with Lou Little of Columbia.

Campus interest has centered in the negotiations undertaken by the Brown Daily Herald and the Daily Dartmouth towards a renewal of the football rivalry between the two institutions they represent in the journalistic field. The Herald conducted a poll of undergraduate opinion at Brown which showed itself almost unanimous in favor of a resumption of gridiron relations. The Dartmouth found sentiment at Hanover also in favor of it. There has been no Dartmouth game since 1929.

* * * * *

The Finances of Football

WHILE football crowds throughout the country fell off during the Depression Year, Brown's experience ran counter to the general run. While the decline in attendance was reported by the Associated Press as 15 per cent, Brown was pointed to as one of the teams "combining the winning habit with colorful performances." Compared with Brown Field attendance records of 52,710 in 1931, about 85,000 persons saw the five games there this year. Receipts this year were $47,021 as against $38,648 a year ago. This last was in the face of a national drop in revenue of 27 per cent.

Against Harvard and Yale the gate receipts were subnormal, but the Holy Cross, Columbia, and Colgate games put the ledger in good shape. Accordingly it is stated that Brown will not have to curtail her athletic program.

* * * * *

The Suggestion is Spread

"Sport Slants," the widely syndicated column by Alan Gould, sporting editor of the Associated Press, reprinted in full the editorial from the last Alumni Monthly on "Football's Dullest Play," a suggestion for a minor change in the rules of the game. The idea was to permit a team, caught too near the sidelines to accept a technical down immediately for the privilege of resuming play the usual 15 yards in, thus doing away with the half-hearted business of carrying the ball outside first.

* * * * *

The Winter Sport Schedule

BASKETBALL

Feb. 21—Tufts at Providence; Rhode Island State at Kingston.
Feb. 28—Yale at New Haven.
Mar. 3—Harvard at Cambridge.
Mar. 8—Rhode Island State at Providence
Mar. 11—Providence College at Brown gymnasium.

HOCKEY

Feb. 17—M. I. T. at Providence.
Feb. 28—Princeton at Princeton.
Mar. 3—Boston University at Providence.
Mar. 10—Northeastern at Boston.

SWIMMING

Feb. 18—Yale at New Haven.
Feb. 24—Harvard at Cambridge.
Mar. 2—Dartmouth at Providence.
Mar. 10, 11—New England Intercollegiate at Amherst
Mar. 17, 18—I. C. S. A. at Philadelphia.

TRACK

Feb. 18—University Club of Boston New England College Meet.
Mar. 4—I. C. A. A. A. Indoor Games at New York.

WRESTLING

Feb. 18—Yale at New Haven.
Feb. 25—M. I. T. at Cambridge.
Mar. 4—Tufts at Providence.
Mar. 10, 11—N. E. I. W. A. Meet.

1936 BASKETBALL

Feb. 21—Tufts Freshmen at Providence.
Feb. 23—Rhode Island State Freshmen at Kingston.
Mar. 1—Worcester Academy at Worcester.
Mar. 3—Harvard Freshmen at Cambridge.
Mar. 8—Rhode Island State Freshmen at Providence.
Mar. 11—Providence College Freshmen at Brown Gymnasium.

1936 TRACK

Mar. 1—Worcester Academy at Providence.

1936 WRESTLING

Feb. 18—Yale Freshmen at New Haven.
Feb. 25—M. I. T. Freshmen at Cambridge.
Mar. 4—Tufts Freshmen at Providence.
Mar. 10, 11—N. E. I. Meet.

* * * * *

Charles H. Conner, Jr., of Rye, N. Y., has been elected captain of the Brown soccer team for 1933. He prepared at Westminster School and played center forward for two years.

Chiefly Concerning the Campus

The "New Manners" in the Colleges

GENTLEMANLINESS is an increasing virtue on our campus; decency has come back into good form; and good taste becomes an essential quality," a Daily Herald editorial writer notes. He finds the "jazz-age collegian" a passed institution and rejoices:

"All this is as it should be; the brash, ill-mannered, over-conscientious individuals who dominated the scene during the prosperity era and, by his frantic attempts to be in the limelight, convinced his public that all college men were boors, has departed from the scene. In his place arises a new type, broader, worthier, and more fitting to the institution that claims him.

"Believe it or not, collegiate rahrahism is rapidly dying. We no longer force ourselves to bow to the god of wine and the goddess of passion; we respect their attractions but keep them in their places. Rudeness is no longer the cult; good taste will not condone so inane a creed."

* * * * *

The Sock and Buskin Cycle

THE Sock and Buskin program is reported progressing smoothly along the lines of activity outlined in plans for a drama cycle. The fourth feature was a bill of one-act plays presented January 22 in Faunce house under the direction of William B. Farnsworth '17, George Baker '34, and Lewis Glassford '34. These two 19th century playlets, "In Honor Bound" and "Lend Me a Shilling," were laboratory performances open to subscribers. Guest players included actresses from the Players of Providence and the Pembroke Komians.

The Sock and Buskin Alumni, under the direction of Professor Thomas Crosby, planned to present a revival of "Mrs. Dane's Defence" for three nights beginning February 13. Among the old members of the dramatic society recruited for this annual production were Francis J. Brady, S. E. Wilkins, Jr., Mr. Farnsworth, T. L. Sweet, F. B. Armington, and Leslie T. Chase, while guest artists were announced for the feminine roles.

* * * * *

Poetry Readings, 1933 Series

A SERIES of poetry readings, similar to that instituted by the Department of English a year ago, has again met with great popular response. The first three readings attracted overflow audiences to Faunce House, while the fourth (by T. S. Eliot, Charles Eliot Norton Professor at Harvard University, and author of The Waste Land, Ash Wednesday, and other works) was to be held in Alumnae Hall on February 19.

The first Sunday afternoon reading was by Prof. Sharon Brown of the English faculty, who selected from the works of Walter de la Mare and James Stephens. He was followed by Robert Hillyer, Harvard poet, and Leonard Bacon, author of Ulug Beg, Ph.D.'s, The Furioso, and other works, each of whom read from their own poetry. Prof. Lindsay Damon presided. An appropriation from the Marshall Woods Lecture Fund makes the series possible.

* * * * *

Interpreting the Mission Inquiry Report, President Barbour spoke under the auspices of the Vedanta Society of Providence last month. Swami Akhilananda replied with "India's Reaction to the Findings."

Continuing the Art Project

BROWN UNIVERSITY and the Rhode Island School of Design have arranged a series of seven public lectures under the general title of "The Classical Point of View," with a continuous thread uniting the various talks, all of which are under the auspices of the Community Art Project. This project, inaugurated last fall with the Art Institute, has been made possible by a fund from the Carnegie Foundation.

L. Earle Rowe, director of the museum of the School of Design, opened the series with a lecture on "The Land and Art of Greece," being followed by Prof. Curt J. Ducasse of Brown, who spoke on "The Conception of Art in Plato and Aristotle." Other dates and speakers are as follows: March 1, Memorial Hall—"Art and Life in the Graeco-Roman World," Prof. Charles A. Robinson, Jr.; March 22, Memorial Hall—"The Spirit of the Renaissance," Prof. Alfonso de Salvo; April 6, Faunce House—"Classical Influences on American Architecture," Prof. Will S. Taylor; April 20, Faunce House—"The Classical Tradition in Modern French Painting," Prof. George E. Downing; May 4, Faunce House—"The Classical Tradition in French Literature," Prof. Horatio E. Smith.

Brown and the School of Design also sponsored a recital by Putnam Aldrich, harpsichord, and Alfred Zighera, viola da gamba, as another incident in the Community Project. People were turned away for lack of accommodations.

The sponsoring institutions are also publishing a monthly calendar of art events in Providence, a service which permits a clearing-house of dates as well as a publicizing of the event. It is further supplemented by the Brown University Weekly Bulletin of events more directly related to the University community.

* * * * *

The Philosophy Lectures

PROFESSOR CHARLES A. BAYLIS delivered the January lecture under the series given under the auspices of the Rhode Island Philosophical Society and Brown University, through an appropriation from the Marshall Woods Lecture Fund. Professor Everett had opened the series with a talk on Spinoza, and Professor Baylis continued with a discussion of "Schopenhauer and Pessimism." The February lecturer will be Professor Arthur E. Murphy, who will speak of "The Supernatural in Religion" in Metcalf Laboratory on February 22.

* * * * *

John Brown's Old Forge

ON the grounds of the New York State Fish Hatchery at Old Forge, R. M. Palmer '10 discovered an unusual item of Brunonian even in that out of the way spot. A millstone and three parts of an old forge have been set up, together with an inscription which identifies them as having been used by agents sent to the town by John Brown of Rhode Island, who acquired the tract of land in 1798. They were again used, says the inscription, about 1817 on the south side of the river near the site by John Brown's son-in-law, Charles Herreshoff. The mementoes were placed in 1930.

Conference Rumors Won't Down

REPORTS of football alliances in the East to compare with the Mid-Western Big Ten Conference spring up perennially at the end of the season, and this December was no exception. The talk of a Harvard-Yale-Dartmouth-Princeton foursome led Charles E. Parker, New York sports writer, to say:

"This new organization may prompt the forming of still another group in which Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Brown and Colgate will be the members with Syracuse as a possible sixth member. Already dual relationships prevail in the cases of several of the latter and the advantage of combining into an organized group is known to appeal to several of those institutions."

Another rumor spoke of a Big Nine in which Brown was to play an important part.

Brown Alumni Monthly

Published at Brown University by the Associated Alumni

CHESLEY WORTHINGTON, '23 Managing Editor	ARTHUR BRAITSCH, '23 Business Manager
HENRY S. CHAFEE, '09 Managing Director	ALFRED H. GURNEY, '07 Secretary
HENRY G. CLARK, '07 For the Alumni Fund	GERTRUDE ALLEN McCONNELL, '10 Pembroke Correspondent

Subscriptions, $2 a year Single copies, 25 cents. There is no issue during August or September.

For the Brown Bookshelf

(Continued from Page 182)

handbook on the big selachians, and a guide to fishermen—whether sportsmen or commercial deep-sea fishermen. Well illustrated, it is dedicated to the fishermen of the world, and carries a foreword by Count Von Luckner. Gotham House is the publisher.

* * *

Agassiz's Turtle Eggs

THE service of an ancient Brown professor to the cause of science was given romantic coloring by Dallas Lore Sharpe '95, some years ago in an article he wrote for the Atlantic Monthly under the title "Turtle Eggs for Agassiz." The account was reprinted along with other outstanding Atlantic offerings which appeared in the Jubilee Anniversary issue of that magazine. Professor Sharp had been a bit annoyed that Agassiz so casually included a microscopic cross section of a turtle embryo in his definitive work on the creature. The writer proceeded to tell just how much loving labor and melodrama and humor had made it possible for the scientist to include that plate. The hero was Professor John Whipple Potter Jenks '38, whose enthusiasm for natural science first kindled Professor Sharp's. The Atlantic reprint is recommended to all Brown alumni.

* * *

W. H. Cady '98, chief chemist of the United States Finishing Company, is the author of the review of the technology of finishing, which has been incorporated in the survey of textile research compiled by the United States Institute for Textile Research, Inc. The Providence Journal and other newspapers have quoted considerably from Cady's review.

* * *

Dr. Francis W. Shepardson '83 was the author of "The Ritual," the leading article in the last issue of Beta Theta Pi, the official magazine of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He also had a poem, "The Sacred Shrine," and the verses of a new song, "My Beta Dad and I," in the same number.

* * *

Harry Paul Taylor of Providence has found a poetic theme in the romance of Chevalier Paul Bajnotti and his American wife, who "went where her heart went," the woman for whom Carrie Tower is a memorial. "Carrie Tower" gives its name as a title to the poem and is the scene of a fantasy in the concluding stanzas. Brown men will be interested in this work, which the author has published and for which Stacy Tolman has drawn an attractive cover.

* * *

"Open and Shut", a novel by Edward S. Porter '19, is announced for publication in the near future by Christopher.

While the law is the profession of Frederick Bernays Wiener '27, he is building up a collateral reputation as an historical scholar. Occasionally he can combine the two interests, as he does in an article in a recent Harvard Law Review. There he writes some "Notes on the Rhode Island Admiralty, 1727-1790," whose legal aspects he feels had been neglected.

* * *

More Congressional Letters

WITH the fifth volume of "Letters of Members of the Continental Congress", Dr. Edmund C. Burnett '90, carries ahead his monumental editorial task for the Carnegie Institution of Washington. It is a work on which he has already been engaged more than 10 years, and each successive volume brings a renewal of the praise of historians and reviewers throughout the country.

The material comes from widely scattered sources, demanding indefatigable and skillful assembling, and the present volume (more than 600 pages) includes some 400 individual letters, exclusive of communications from the president and secretary, from state delegations, and from Congressional boards and committees. As a source book its value will be tremendous.

Of the 400 letters six delegates contribute about one-third, one of the six being "young Madison", another Philip Schuyler. Varying degrees of literacy and illiteracy are discovered, with a general spirit of discouragement. The period covered, January 1, 1780 to February 28, 1781, still had its bad news from the front and its signs of discontent, futility, and jealousy from civilian sources. Some of the delegates, however, were thinking straight.

Dr. Burnett, who has been in Washington since 1907, was formerly a member of the University's History Department and received both of his advanced degrees from Brown.

SAW MORE THAN EGGS

Brunonians Far and Near

To the Editor of the
BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY,
Brown University, Providence.

Dear Sir:

I would add another to the list of those who should be regarded with caution. A young man calling himself Geoffrey Smith is soliciting funds for subscription to a magazine on the ground that he would thus be aided to transfer to Brown University to carry out his idea that he may have the benefit of our premedical courses as a preparation for a life work as a medical missionary. He has claimed to have been at St. Stephen and also at other times to have been at Bowdoin. The Dean of St. Stephen writes that they have no such name on their books, and Dean Arnold has no record of an application for anyone of that name for entrance to Brown.

Very truly yours,
Providence Z. Chafee.

Faculty Notes

Professor Arlan Coolidge and Arthur Hitchcock of the Department of Music gave a joint recital (violin and piano) at the University Club, Providence, January 19, and their excellent program received a hearty reception.

Professor W. Albert Noyes, Jr., of the Department of Chemistry, is a member of the editorial board of the new Journal of Chemical Physics, a monthly publication with the backing of the American Institute of Physics.

Professor Mahlon K. Schnacke, assistant librarian of the University, has resigned to accept appointment as librarian of the American Academy in Rome. Professor Schnacke, graduate of the University of Minnesota, will leave Brown at the end of the current year.

sistence on co-ordination and timing places a great physical burden on the individual players. Several prospective Freshmen were in the audience that listened with pleasure to Messrs. Adams and McLaughry.

President Dexter announced plans for informal meeting with Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow, acting director of admissions, who visited Washington in January, and for a later meeting at which President Barbour will be the guest.

* * *

A Northern California Welcome

THE following letter, in part, from Col. Leroy Bartlett '02 of Oakland, Calif., to whom the Alumni Office is greatly indebted for his organizing work and his wholehearted enthusiasm, has a real thrill in it:

"On the evening of Thursday, Dec. 22, 1932, twenty-one Brown alumni, residents of Alameda County, assembled at the Athens Athletic Club to greet Frank Meadow and Tom Gilbane. This was the largest alumni gathering of any of the colleges represented, but we did not get the prize for singing because the Yale group (Captain Wilbur and Crowley were the Yale guests) had several members of the Yale Glee Club there. While the Brown alumni could outyell them, we could not win the singing contest, notwithstanding the very best efforts of Tom Gilbane to lead us.

"It appears that there are thirty-two Brown alumni in Alameda County and a like number in San Francisco County. The group in the East Bay have never been organized, and of those present the four members of the Class of 1911 knew each other. None of the rest of us had ever met. This Shrine football dinner, therefore, offered excellent opportunity to get together. We plan hereafter to have an auto ride and basket picnic on Washington's Birthday and Armistice Day (September 9) in addition to meeting at the Shrine dinner whenever there is a Brown man on the East football team. You see, the alumni here enjoyed this dinner so much that they want to get together at regular intervals in the future."

* * *

New Haven Talks Football

ONE of the most successful meetings in the history of the Brown Club of New Haven took place at the Union League Club, Thursday evening, December 29, with ex-Capt. William J. Gilbane, Dave Allen, John Allen, and Roger Offen of the 1932 football eleven as guests. Frank Meadow, also invited, was unable to attend because of a previous invitation to go to San Francisco with the East team; and Bill Karaban got his dates mixed and failed to appear. All of the undergraduates, except Gilbane, are from New Haven or neighborhood. Tad Jones, former head coach at Yale, and Adam Walsh, Yale line coach, also were guests.

"There were about a hundred men present, of which forty-two were Brown men and their guests," C. F. Andrews '26, secretary, wrote. "Walt Brown was master of ceremonies and first introduced Robert H. Woodruff, president of the Union League. Then there was musical entertainment, and after that Bill Gilbane gave a fine résumé of the football season and predicted, mod-

Brown Club Activities

The Engineers' Annual Meeting

STARTING on his midwinter visits to alumni clubs as far as Detroit and Chicago, President Barbour made his first stop in New York, February 20, where he was guest of the Brown Engineering Association at its annual meeting and dinner. The place was the Hotel Wentworth; and Dr. Barbour, Professor John E. Hill of the Division of Engineering, and William C. J. Whittemore '33 were the speakers. Also appearing on the program were Alexander Graham '06, president of the Brown University Club in New York; Edwin H. Fisher of Rochester, a lifelong friend of Dr. Barbour; and E. L. Chandler '09 of Dayton, Ohio, and New London, Conn.

President W. Arnold White '13 of the Engineers led the business meeting, as well as introduced the speakers. The new officers for 1933-34 are: President, David J. Purdie '11; Vice-President, Professor Paul N. Kistler; Secretary-Treasurer, Charles G. Burgess '24; Directors, Wayne M. Faunce '21, Earle F. Leach '28, Percy A. Shaw '08, and W. Arnold White '13. President-elect Purdie spoke briefly at the end of the formal program, pledging to Dr. Barbour the continued co-operation of the Engineers. President White read a telegram from Professor W. H. Kenerson, and a letter from Professor A. E. Watson, giving best wishes to their students, old and young.

Dr. Barbour in his vigorous talk pointed out what he considered some of the remarkable engineering feats of the Far East, where he was a year ago at this time, including the Taj Mahal, the Forbidden City, the Great Wall of China, and the rebuilt city of Tokio. Of the University he told about the quality and high morale of the Faculty, the fine relations existing between Faculty and student body, and asked the alumni to be patient while suggested improvements were being weighed and studied before being put into effect.

Professor Hill told of the engineering exhibit which has drawn many undergraduates and others to Faunce House, of changes in the engineering staff of assistants, and gave interesting facts and figures regarding the present classes. Messrs. Whittemore, Graham, and Fisher spoke briefly. The former introduced William S. Wagner, also a Senior; and Mr. Graham urged the engineers to join the Brown Club. Mr. Chandler's remarks converged on how much a meeting of this kind means to a Brown man remote from College Hill.

* * *

Washington's Largest Turnout

WITH Professor James P. Adams, vice president of the University, and Coach D. O. McLaughry as speakers, the Brown Club of Washington brought out what is believed to be the largest number of alumni in its history at the buffet supper and smoker at the University Club, Friday evening, December 30. Several reels of Professor Kenerson's moving pictures of campus life and figures were shown, and copies of the Brown Jug, the new University bulletin dealing with admissions and other pertinent matters, and the University in Pictures were distributed. President Edwin Grant Dexter '90 was in charge.

Professor Adams, in his talk, "predicted that Brown of the future would carry on the many traditions and responsibilities imposed by previous generations. He stressed the importance of the changes which have occurred in the past 10 years, and outlined the significance of the recently formulated university policy. He asserted that the departmental communities contemplated would provide a long felt need for greater contact between undergraduates and faculty and would lead to the same sort of development as the programs now under way at Harvard and Yale."

Coach McLaughry told his hearers that "football of the present is more strenuous than was the case a decade or more ago," praised the unusual morale of the 1932 eleven, and pointed out that the current inestly, our chances for next season. He made a strong impression on all of us.

"Tad Jones told how he learned football at Exeter under Ed Robinson and Fred Murphy, recalled Johnny Mayhew and Fritz Pollard as Brown's great stars in his time, and, speaking of the long and pleasant athletic relations between Yale and Brown, hoped that they would continue. Adam Walsh gave us some highlights of the coaches' meeting in New York and spoke laudably of Tuss McLaughry, as did Tad Jones. After the speeches, moving pictures of the Brown-Yale and Brown-Harvard games were shown and described by Capt. Gilbane, who did not mention his own name once. After presentation of inscribed billfolds to the players, the meeting closed with the singing of Alma Mater. . . . Too much cannot be said of Mr. Horvath and the Union League Club for their splendid co-operation. I can assure you that Brown is a favorite in New Haven and I believe we will be sending some sons of Yale men to Brown in the next few years."

* * *

New York's Annual Dinner

UNDER the active guidance of Hoccy Hennessy '12, the Brown University Club in New York carried out in splendid style its plans for the 65th annual dinner at the Shelton Club, February 8. Of the dinner there will be complete report in the March issue of the ALUMNI MONTHLY. Hennessy's committee was made up of R. R. Hunter '98, A. F. Driscoll '06, R. M. Palmer '10, H. W. MacNair '17, A. C. Koch '19, J. H. Farnham '14, Myron Sulzberger, Jr. '26, R. C. Litchfield '23, K. A. O'Brien '28, and W. B. Leonard '31.

The Club was host on January 10 to Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow '24, acting director of admissions. This was the day of the weekly luncheon, and W. R. Dorman '92, former chairman of the Club's selection committee, was in the chair. Dr. Bigelow gave an informative talk on admissions problems, the University's policy on admissions, and the calibre of undergraduates now in college. He gave his personal appreciation of the fine work done by the New York committee under Dorman's leadership, noting in particular the fact that there was slightly over 98 percent correlation between the recommendations of the New York committee and the final decisions of the admissions office.

For the coming year, Thomas B. Appleget '17 will be chairman of the selection committee, and W. Kenneth Anderson '27, vice-chairman. They will be assisted by the following in interviewing applicants: W. R. Dorman '92, A. F. Driscoll '06, Alexander Graham '06, E. B. Owen '06, R. M. Palmer '10, J. S. Granger '13, H. W. MacNair '17, T. W. Hall '18, A. W. Packard '25, F. K. Singiser '28, E. G. Hapgood, Jr. '31, W. B. Leonard '31, and J. N. Micucci '31.

The drive for the proposed affiliation with the Princeton Club is continuing satisfactorily, but at present writing no definite statement can be made as to the outcome. Jeffrey S. Granger '13 is chairman of the executive committee on membership and has as his associates: Philip Lukin '24, H. W. MacNair '17, A. C. Koch '19, R. M. Palmer '10. The general membership committee includes the members of the executive committee and the following: J. C. Hennessy '10, Hoccy Hennessy '12, W. C. Shattuck '24, R. S. Trowbridge '27, W. K. Anderson '27, G. A. Smith '25, A. H. Wallach '26, Myron Sulzberger, Jr. '26, K. A. O'Brien '28, E. P. Frazee '28, J. N. Micucci '31, W. B. Leonard '31, E. G. Hapgood, Jr. '31, and W. L. Fogarty '31.

Hugh S. Butler '32 and John R. Caulkins '32 have been calling on as many New York Brown men as possible in the interest of the Princeton affiliation, and their progress is encouraging. It is interesting to note that in all cases they received cordial welcome from alumni who have been out of touch with the University and who are delighted to have a recent graduate call and tell them news about Brown.

The number of men from the University at the holiday luncheon (just after Christmas) deserves mention. Fred W. Murphy '99, presiding, introduced "Doc" Marvel as the guest of honor, and then called on Coach McLaughry, Dean Arnold, Dean Currier, Dick Cole, wrestling coach, and Hal Neubauer '25, former star baseball pitcher, and Jack Hennessy '10. Four prospective Freshmen were present, as well as R. A. Holman, football manager in 1932, O. P. Hammer, captain of basketball, Fred H. Rea, William R. Oakes, and Sidney Johnson, Jr., all undergraduates.

* * *

Boston Hears Dr. Briggs

As this note was on its way to the printer, there came the news that the annual dinner of the Brown Club of Boston had been tentatively set for Thursday evening, February 9. President Barbour headed the list of speakers, and R. G. Sykes '21, president of the club, was to be master of ceremonies.

Dr. L. Vernon Briggs, noted psychiatrist, was the speaker at the monthly luncheon of the club, held at the American House, Tuesday, January 17. Dr. Briggs discussed the young criminal, and gave sidelights from murder cases with which he has had to deal in his professional capacity.

* * *

Providence Enlists New Members

ON Thursday, January 12, the Executive Committee of the Brown Club of Providence had its regular monthly meeting.

Of particular importance was the report of Charles J. Hill, who has been in charge of the Brown Club Membership Drive which was started about a month ago for the purpose of increasing the size of the group and also to guarantee sufficient income to offer regularly the new Brown Club Scholarship which is part of the program of the alumni group throughout the country. Mr. Hill reported that to date there were 208 new members signed up. This total membership was voted into the group with the feeling that the Executive Committee had done a fine piece of work in view of the many difficulties at the present time.

For the past few years the Brown Club of Providence has appropriated a sum of money to be used at the Brown Infirmary to purchase incidentals for students that they should have, such as cigarettes, fruit, ice cream and other incidentals. Dr. Arthur L. Washburn, who has continually shown such a vital interest in the Infirmary, has been the administrator of this fund and has reported regularly the gratitude that exists among the students who have been helped by this money. A year ago the Brown Club purchased for the Infirmary apart from its regular contributions a radio, and for this coming year has appropriated $75.00 to be used by Dr. Washburn in his work at the Infirmary.

Roll Call of the Classes

1816

BISHOP BENJAMIN BOSWORTH SMITH's services to the cause of education in Kentucky are memorialized in a recent article in the Kentucky School Journal, which describes his work as first Episcopal Bishop of that State and its third Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"The work of Bishop Smith as a churchman caused him to be chosen superintendent in 1840," writes Roscoe L. Murray. "He served the interests of education with the same zeal and enthusiasm he had manifested in his church work. The lectures he delivered in 76 of the 90 counties of the State in the interest of education and the recommendations contained in his report stamp him as a man of vision and foresight. In 1872 he became presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, the highest office in the gift of his church."

Among the recommendations in the report cited called for "insisting and encouraging the counties which had not organized a school system to do so;" conduct of a school census, the first of which he supervised; establishment of a normal school, and other pioneering steps.

1874

Dr. Frank E. Rockwood, Dean Emeritus of Bucknell University, observed his 80th birthday December 20, last, at his home in Overbrook, Philadelphia. In reply to a note of congratulation sent him by the Alumni Secretary, he recalled the fact that when he was a Freshman, "Hoyt of '71, a Senior, published a poem in the Brunonian entitled 'Four Score at Commencement.' A few years ago—three or four—Hoyt himself was four score at Commencement, and experienced what he had written in his poem."

1875

John F. Clark, after 54 years of public service, has retired to his home in Cumberland, R. I., where he is devoting his spare time to duties as secretary of several fraternal organizations. He lost his job as Deputy Secretary of State of Rhode Island as a result of the Democratic landslide, but he said that he did not mind. "I've had enough," he told a Providence Journal reporter. Moreover, he thought that his successor was "an awfully nice fellow." At the State House his co-workers and acquaintances always called him "Colonel," a title he acquired as a member of Governor Littlefield's staff.

"It is Col. Clark's hoast," the Journal said, "that he never, in all his life, ever worked a day for any private individual, and that he has always been in business for himself, or for the public. Of his public career he remembers best the old-time fight of assemblymen to get unpaid committee clerkships, so they could sit in committee rooms during monotonous speeches on the floor; the sessions at Newport, which were virtual vacations with pay to many country members of the Legislature; the few days during the notorious filibuster in 1924 when he sat on the rostrum in the absence of Lieutenant Governor Felix A. Toupin; the amusing experiences as a member of the staff of Governor Alfred H. Littlefield."

1878

By the will of Mrs. Emma A. (Steele) Burgess, late wife of Dr. Gideon A. Burgess, the Rhode Island Episcopal Convention has received a deed for a seven-acre tract of land in Glocester, R. I., to be known as "The Albert White Burgess Camp" and to be used "for camping and recreational purposes by members of the Alpha Theta Fraternity and the Order of St. Philip, or other similar organizations of men and boys of the Protestant Episcopal Church, subject to the control and management of the Diocesan Council of the Rhode Island Episcopal Convention." The camp is named in honor of Dr. Burgess's son.

1882

Rev. Edward Evans Seagrave, descendant of Col. Edward E. Seagrave of the American army in the Revolution, died in Des Moines, Iowa, December 27, 1932. He had been chaplain of St. Joseph's Academy, Des Moines, since July, 1913. A native of Providence, where he was born August 17, 1858, the son of Caleb and Helen D. (Bucklin) Seagrave, he prepared in private schools in this country and abroad, and was at Brown for one term. He left college because of illness, and after recovery, went to work in 1880 for the Blackstone Woolen Co., and then as a member of the firm of Evans Seagrave Co. In 1896 he entered St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore and in 1899 became a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, being ordained in Providence by the Rt. Rev. Matthew Harkins. Later he studied in Rome, and from 1900 to 1910 was curate and chancellor of the Providence diocese. In 1910 he was retired on sick leave and created chancellor of the diocese of Des Moines.

1883

Dr. Alfred W. Anthony has presented to Bates College a bookplate for use in the Anthony collection of books being purchased from a fund established by Anthony in memory of his sister, Kate Jackson Anthony, "who was a very good friend of Bates and always manifested a keen interest in all that pertained to the welfare of the college." The bookplate, which has an outdoor motif, according to the Bates Almanus, was designed by George Wharton Edwards.

1885

Former Supreme Court Justice Norman S. Dike presided at the annual Graham Foundation Lecture of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Institute of Arts and Sciences which Presi-

BISHOP BENJAMIN B. SMITH

Brown 1816

Whose career Kentucky memorializes
See the item on preceding page dent Barbour gave on January 15. Dr. Barbour's subject was "The Other Side of the World." Dike retired from the bench of the New York State Supreme Court the first of the year because of the age limit. A member of the judiciary for 26 years, he was famous for his literary decisions, his fine humor, and his fearless speaking out against recognized evils. One of his hobbies is Mark Twain and the humorists of the '90's.

1887

Dana Carleton Munro, Dodge Professor of Medieval History at Princeton, and one of the great living authorities on the history of the Crusades, died in New York, January 13, 1933, of pneumonia. He had been sick less than a week. Born in Bristol, R. I., June 7, 1866, the son of John B. and Abby H. (Batt) Munro, he prepared at Bristol High School and Mowry & Goff's English and Classical School, and in college was a brilliant student, winning election to Phi Beta Kappa in Junior year. After graduation he taught history for two years at DeVeaux College, Suspension Bridge, New York; studied at Strassburg and Freiburg, 1889-90; was instructor in French and German at Haverford College grammar school, 1890-93; instructor and Assistant Professor of Roman and Medieval History, University of Pennsylvania, 1893-1902; Professor of European History, University of Wisconsin, 1902-15; and at Princeton since 1915. He was acting Dean at Wisconsin in 1903; director of the summer sessions, 1904; and president of the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters, 1912-15. In 1925-26 he was president of the American Historical Association, and in this office he asked for an endowment of $1,000,000 "for research to fill in serious gaps in American history." He was a former chairman of the National Board of Historical Service and of the committee on grants-in-aid of the Social Sciences Research Council; a trustee of the American Society of Oriental Research; a fellow of the Medieval Academy; a member of the American Philosophical Society, the Royal Historical Society, Delta Phi, and other national groups. He held the decoration of Commandeur de L'Ordre de la Couronne, Belgium, had been a Lowell lecturer at Harvard, managing editor of the American Historical Review, and editor of the Century Historical Series. During the World War he did special research for the Committee on Public Information.

A prolific writer, his titles included "History of the Middle Ages," "The Teaching of Medieval History," "Essays on the Crusades," "The Middle Ages," and "Source Book of Roman History." In 1890 he received his A.M. from Brown; and in 1912 Alma Mater conferred upon him the honorary degree of L.H.D., citing him as "scholar and instructor . . . who has given to hundreds of students the large outlook, the patient method, and the hopeful attitude of the true historian." The Providence Journal said truly: "He was a sound historian, a courteous gentleman and a cherished friend." He was married July 16, 1891, to Alice Gardner Beecher, who survives him, together with two sons, Dana G. Munro '12, diplomat and teacher, and Winthrop M. Munro '23, three daughters, and two brothers, Professor Emeritus Wilfred H. Munro '70, and Dr. Walter L. Munro '79.

1890

Dr. Charles H. Forbes, acting headmaster of Phillips Andover Academy, will continue in that role until the end of the present academic year. Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, headmaster for 30 years, resigned last month after having been on leave of absence since last summer.

1891

Edgar Lincoln Willard, well known in Massachusetts as an educator, died at his home, North Scituate, Mass., December 14, 1932, as a result of injuries received when hit by a motor truck about five years ago. Born in Leominster, Mass., January 28, 1864, the son of Francis O. and Elizabeth L. (Campbell) Willard, he came to Brown from Worcester Academy and, as an undergraduate, was active in athletics. From 1891 to 1894 he was principal of schools in Oxford and North Attleboro, Mass. Then he returned to Providence, studied for a year at Rhode Island Normal School, as well as at Brown, from which he received his A.M. on examination in 1895; and thereafter was superintendent of schools for the district of Duxbury, Marshfield and Scituate, Mass., 1895-1906; Newburyport, Mass., 1906-14; Natick, Mass., 1914-21; Canton, Mass., 1921-24. Then he settled in Scituate, took up real estate and insurance, and was doing that kind of work when the accident incapacitated him. He was the author of "Courses of Study for Public Schools," "The Ideal Speller," and four books under the common title, "Fundamental Drills in Arithmetic." He was married April 12, 1899, to Estella Litchfield, who survives him, together with two sons, Rev. Warren W. Willard '27, pastor of South Baptist Church, Providence, and Lawrence Willard of Natick; a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Willard; and two grandchildren. He was a member of Satuit Lodge of Masons of Scituate and of Zeta Psi.

Miracle Worker, AGE 8

His little hands hold the instrument tightly; his small, confident voice speaks eagerly into the mouthpiece. And as simply as that, he talks to his friend who lives around the corner, or to his Granny in a distant city . . . achievements which, not so many years ago, would have seemed miraculous.

These miracles he takes as a matter of course, in the stride of his carefree days. You yourself probably accept the telephone just as casually. Seldom do you realize what extraordinary powers it gives you. You use it daily for a dozen different purposes. For friendly chats. For business calls. To save steps, time and trouble. To be many places, do many things, visit many people, without so much as moving from the living room of your home or the desk in your office.

At this very moment, somewhere, your voice would be the most welcome music in the world. Some one would find happiness in knowing where you are and how you are.

Some one would say gratefully, sincerely—"I was wishing you'd call."

From among more than seventeen million telephones in this country, the very one you want will be connected quickly and efficiently with the telephone in your home or office.

Your telephone is the modern miracle which permits you to range where you will—talk with whom you will. It is yours to use at any hour of the day or night.

AMERICAN TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

A Booklet
Every Friend of Brown
Should Have

CARRIE TOWER

by
HARRY PAUL TAYLOR

A Poem
that tells the story
of
Brown's Hilltop Tower
Drawing by Stacy Tolman

At All
Providence Book Shops
Thirty-five Cents

Mail orders filled by
Brown Book Store

Edition limited to 242 copies

1892

John Lester Kent, member of the class for two years and president of the Brown Club of the Merrimack Valley, died in Lawrence, Mass., January 11, 1933. A native of Phenix, R. I., where he was born April 26, 1871, the son of John R. and Hannah A. Kent, he prepared at Mowry & Goff's English and Classical School, and registered at Brown for the Ph.B. degree. He left college in 1890, studied cloth engraving, and at the time of his death was foreman of engraving at the Pacific Mills Print Works, Lawrence. He had a genuine interest in Brown and Brown affairs, and the alumni of the Merrimack Valley showed their regard for him by electing him president of their club at the annual meeting in Methuen last spring. He was married June 29, 1898, to Jessie Kerr Gillies, who survives him, together with two daughters and a sister, Sophie B. Kent.

1895

William A. Burt's new house address is 875 St. Nicholas Avenue, New York.

1896

Rev. Clarence M. Gallup, D.D., is acting as winter pastor of the Community Church, Babson Park, Fla.

1897

Dr. Arvid Reuterdaahl, engineer, physicist, and mathematician, whose opposition to Einstein as pioneer in the theory of relativity caused international interest some years ago, dropped dead while walking on the street in Minneapolis, Minn., January 13, 1933. Born in Karlstad, Sweden, February 15, 1876, the son of Jonas and Christina Reuterdaahl, he entered Brown from the Providence Technical High School, won his Sc.B. with the class, and his A.M. in philosophy and physics in 1899. While he studied for his master's degree, he taught mathematics on the Hill and mathematics and physics at Technical. From 1899 to 1904 he engaged in electrical engineering. He was Professor of Physics at Colby, 1904-05; assistant city engineer and then head of the Board of Public Works and water commissioner, Spokane, Wash., 1905-10; practicing civil engineer, 1910-15; and from 1915 until recently member of the Faculties at Kansas City Polytechnic Institute, St. Thomas College, where he was Dean of the Department of Engineering and Architecture, and Ramsay Institute of Technology. He belonged to many scientific societies and was the author of several scientific books, including "Einstein and the New Science," which came out in 1921. In 1923 he received the Doctorate in Science from the Academy of Nations "in recognition of his achievements in the domain of scientific investigation." He was married June 16, 1902, to Ellen Louise Morrison, who survives him, together with a son, Norman M. Reuterdaahl. In a letter to the Alumni Office some years ago he expressed a wish for "an ever-growing and educationally illustrious Brown."

Allen H. Chase reports a change of mail address to P. O. Box 713, La Jolla, Calif.

David M. White's father, Rev. Horace Jerome White, who became a Baptist minister after having served through the Civil War, died in Providence, January 15, 1933, in his 89th year. Another son is Clinton C. White '00. Colby College gave Mr. White an honorary A.M. in 1885, and Bates College followed suit in 1897.

1900

At the annual stockholders' meeting of the Norton Company, held in Worcester, Mass., last month, Clifford S. Anderson became secretary and clerk of the corporation and at the same time retained his status as general counsel of the company.

The late Addison G. Hanan, member of the class in Freshman year, left an estate having a net value of $2,203,133, according to an appraisal filed in Brooklyn, N. Y., last month. Hanan, who was a member of the Hanan family of shoe manufacturers, was internationally known as a yachtsman and designer of small boats. He died July 16, 1923. He left his estate to his widow, three sons, and a daughter.

1901

C. Sherman Hoyt is serving this year as chairman of the committee on lines and models of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club of Oyster Bay, N. Y.

Col. George A. Taylor, U. S. A., retired, was the speaker at the January meeting of the Men's Club, Hadley, Mass., where the Colonel and Mrs. Taylor are now settled. His subject was "Hadley and Other Verse," and the Hadley correspondent of the Daily Hampshire Gazette said that "it was an enjoyable and profitable evening for all."

1902

Senator Alfred G. Chaffee of Scituate is chairman of the committee on corporations in the Rhode Island Senate, and is also a member of the committee on pardons.

EDWARD S. JONES SONS COMPANY has co-operated with the editors of the Brown Alumni Monthly in designing the typographic style of this magazine, and in handling the mechanical details so as to insure lower costs, combined with excellence of appearance.

This service, which has been available to our customers throughout Southern New England for twenty-two years, is more important today than ever before. We welcome a chance to demonstrate the value of well planned, well executed printing, produced at reasonable cost.

Printers of the Alumni Monthly

178 UNION AVENUE

PROVIDENCE, R. I.

1903

George Henry Lewis, special student with the class in 1899-1901, died in Adamsdale, Mass., December 28, 1932. Born in Bangor, Me., in 1870, the son of Levi B. and Nettie A. (Kelly) Lewis, he prepared at English High School, Lynn, Mass., where he was president of the first class to be graduated. For ten years, however, before he entered college he worked on various jobs. After leaving Brown he was a student at Crozer Theological Seminary for one year; and since 1902 he had been in the employ of the Builders Iron Foundry, Providence. He served as supply minister for the Osterville, Mass., Baptist Church, 1908-09, and was pastor of the Cushman Union Church, Adamsdale, 1911-18. He was secretary of the Rhode Island Baptist Sunday School Convention, 1914-16, and president, 1916-17. Local history was his hobby; he wrote the story of the Adamsdale church and a sketch of the village under the title, "Eventful Days in Adamsdale." He belonged to the Rhode Island Historical Society, the Rhode Island Bible Society, Bristol Lodge of Masons, Aurora Lodge of Odd Fellows, and other organizations. During the World War he was in service with the Y. M. C. A.

Col. Harvey A. Baker has been appointed a member of the Board of Recreation, Providence, by Mayor James E. Dunne.

Thomas A. Barry and Mrs. Barry have the sympathy of the class in the loss of their daughter, Helen Marie Barry, who died in Providence, December 29, 1932.

1904

Edward M. Benjamin, member of the class in Freshman year, is an architect with Halsey, McCormack & Helmer, 286 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Elmer T. Stevens has the sympathy of the class in the loss of his father, Charles A. Stevens, pioneer merchant of Chicago, who died December 24 as a result of a heart ailment from which he had suffered for years. The elder Stevens, in company with his brother James, started at the age of 20 to build the business bearing his name and with which his son has been connected since graduation.

Howard F. Hart, member of the teaching staff of the East Orange, N. J., High School, lives at 166 N. Walnut Street, East Orange.

1906

Senator A. T. S. Phetteplace, who represents Gloucester in the Rhode Island Senate, is a member this term of the important judiciary committee, and also of the rules and orders committee.

1907

The Class had the largest delegation at the annual smoker of the Brown Club of Providence in Faunce House, January 16. Present were Hurley, Schwartz, W. W. Reynolds, Jones, H. E. Miller, Little, Gurney, Cummings, Harris, and Clark.

John L. Curran has been giving a lot of his spare time in the past few weeks to the work of campaigning for the North Providence Welfare Fund, the goal of which is $10,000.

Henry G. Clark is once again president of the Providence District Nursing Association, having been re-elected at the 32nd annual meeting held last month.

1908

Percy A. Shaw became superintendent of the Manchester, N. H., Water Works at the beginning of this year. "It's just like coming back home," he told a Manchester Union reporter, as he recalled the years he spent in Manchester as designing engineer and then chief engineer for the L. H. Shattuck Co. One of his jobs was designing the present sewerage system of Manchester.

1909

William P. Dodge was elected president of the Providence Charitable Fuel Society at the 106th annual meeting in Providence last month.

Don Clark is one of the new commissioners of the North Burial Ground, Providence.

Bill Miller was renamed as president of the Rhode Island Historical Society at the 111th annual meeting last month.

E. L. Chandler was back on the campus last month, renewing acquaintances and getting information as to entrance requirements, as his boy will be ready for college in a few years. Tink is living temporarily at 38 Twelfth Street, New London, Conn., his old home town, but his office continues to be in Dayton, Ohio.

John Wells is again serving as treasurer of the Providence Building, Sanitary and

Custom-Tailored Service To Fit Your Savings Needs

Someone has said that Old Colony might almost be called a department store of thrift.

You can save here on the plan which fits your own desires and needs. You do not have to conform to some arbitrary method which may call upon you for payments too large, or too small.

PAYMENTS can be made monthly or weekly, or at irregular intervals in varying amounts, to suit your own convenience. If you wish to increase your payments, you can buy more Shares. If you find payments a bit too heavy, the number can be reduced. Savings Shares may be bought or withdrawn at any time. At the same time, an excellent feature of savings-and-loan is its encouragement of systematic saving.

OLD COLONY CO-OPERATIVE BANK

58 WEYBOSSET ST., PROVIDENCE
WONSOCKET - WEST WARWICK - GREYSTONE - PAWTUCKET

Systematic Saving Spells Success

Education Asso., while your Class Secretary is a member of the Board of Trustees.

1911

Charles P. Sisson, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee in Rhode Island, has his new office at 1408 Turks Head Building, Providence, where Edward G. Fletcher, a Wesleyan graduate, is associated with him in the practice of law. Charlie's working hours are much occupied with politics these days, what with a Democratic administration at the State House, and the Democrats in control of the House of Representatives.

1912

Max Grant has again been chosen president of the Miriam Hospital Corporation, Providence, an office which he has held since the corporation was launched in 1925.

1913

Leonard W. Smith has changed his address from Bridgeport to 245 Willow Street, New Haven, Conn.

Bill Reed is living this winter at Warwick Neck, Warwick, R. I., where his mail address is P. O. Box 11.

C. D. (Doty) Morse wrote us a note not long ago on paper carrying the letterhead, "Clearwater Laundry Co., Inc., 120 Amory St., Roxbury, Mass.," but Doty did not say what he is doing with or for the company. He asked only that his address be changed from Boston to 548 High Rock Street, Needham, Mass.

1914

James Ira Shepard's motor car was found abandoned on Mount Hope Bridge, between Bristol and Portsmouth, R. I., December 30. The Providence Journal said: "Marks on the east railing of the span led police to believe that he climbed over to the narrow outer platform and leaped 125 feet to his death in Mount Hope Bay shortly before noon." A message found in the car is said to have indicated that he planned to end his life because of money troubles.

1915

Ernest Emery has left New York City for the quieter suburb of Bronxville, where he is living at 1428 Midland Avenue.

1916

Newton P. Leonard was elected clerk of the Westminster Unitarian Church, Providence, at the last annual meeting.

Louis W. Cappelli, first Democratic Secretary of State of Rhode Island in many years, was lauded "for his modesty, ability, and qualifications to hold public office" at a dinner given in his honor in Providence, January 9. Governor Theodore Francis Green '87 was a guest. Cappelli's friends gave him a gold watch, chain and knife.

A. B. Coop, whose specialty is oil burners and engineering problems connected with them, has left Providence for Springfield, Mass., where his address, he writes, is 159 Wellington Street.

Rev. Wilbour E. Saunders, whom we reported last month as going to Rochester, N. Y., as secretary of the Rochester Federation of Churches, is occupying his new office at 1010 Temple Building, and his new home at 99 Edgemoor Rd., Rochester. Saunders will also lecture at the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School.

1918

Elijah Anthony, who is a vice-president of the Brown Club of Washington, D. C., is assistant general counsel for the Farm Loan Board and lives at 513 Maple Ridge Road, Bethesda, Md.

1919

W. W. Brouillette is assistant treasurer of the Salem Co-operative Bank, Salem, Mass. He recently changed his house address to 7 Larchmont Road, Salem.

J. I. Cohen's father died in Providence, January 8. The elder Cohen had to flee from Russia in 1906 after the Duma, of which he was a member, was dissolved by Czar Nicholas II. He had lived in the United States since 1908.

1920

Albert E. Lownes is the new vice-president of Narragansett Council, Boy Scouts of America, as well as a member of the Board of Directors. Another honor recently given him was election to the National Council of the Boy Scouts.

Lou Balatow of Bolton-Federici, Inc., makers of men's clothing, 6 and 8 West 20th Street, New York, writing of his visit to the campus late last fall, penned this significant paragraph: "I wish that every Brown man who has been out of college a number of years could manage to get back to the campus at least once a year, not only to see the old buildings, but to note the progress old Brown is making, and to have a chance to learn first hand of what is happening. Of course, the ALUMNI MONTHLY is a good substitute for such a visit; it is, indeed, the second best bet for all who are still interested in Alma Mater."

THE FINEST HUMAN HANDS CAN ACHIEVE

Dividends

THE man who wears a garment hand-tailored by LANGROCK enjoys distinctive appearance. A suit that repays such dividends of satisfaction is always well worth the investment.

THE BROWN SHOP

THAYER ST. AT BENEVOLENT

SPONSORED BY
LANGROCK

PROVIDENCE, R.I.

AT BROWN CAMPUS

STORES AT: Yale, Princeton, Williams, Harvard, Exeter, Andover
49 Broadway, New York City.

1921

Arthur Kirk is industrial service engineer with the Blackstone Valley Gas & Electric Co., with his headquarters in Woonsocket, R. I., where he lives at 428 Prospect Street.

1923

ORDINARILY at this time, plans would be under way for the 10th Reunion of our class in June. No plans have been discussed or initiated as yet, due to sober realization that the past three years have required of all of us a serious consideration of fundamental economic and social problems, and the elimination of many things and ideas which, heretofore, have been accepted as a matter of course.

Frankly, the class officers in and about Providence, upon whom the responsibility of reunion plans usually falls, do not believe it quite fair to the members of the class nor to the treasury to proceed with reunion plans this year without first getting a representative opinion on the following questions:

(1) Should the class hold an official 10th reunion, after due consideration of the individual problems which its members have undoubtedly faced during the last few trying years?

(2) If the consensus of opinion is that a reunion of some sort be held in any event, what should be its scope and activities in general?

The above comment and questions are in no wise attempts to shift responsibility for reunion plans to the individual class members, but rather an expression of what we believe the fairest approach to any such plans. It would be greatly appreciated if every member of 1923 would mail a card or note, giving his genuine reaction to the foregoing questions to the following:

J. D. E. Jones, Jr., 2101 New Industrial Trust Building, Providence, R. I. Telephone—Gaspee 1274.

W. B. McCormick, 740 Hospital Trust Building, Providence, R. I. Telephone—Gaspee 1957.

It is suggested that those resident in and adjacent to Providence, call either of the above named by telephone and thus save time.

William B. McCormick
For the Class.

Winship Teachers' Agency

SEND FOR BLANK

6 BEACON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

Alvin F. Pease

Brown Graduate, A. B. & A. M.

Dr. K. K. Gregory was reappointed first assistant superintendent of the Charles V. Chapin Hospital, Providence, at the annual meeting of the Board of Hospital Commissioners last month.

H. E. Van Hoesen is in charge of wage matters for the J. C. Hall Company, printers and lithographers, Providence. Herb's daughter, Janice Mae, will celebrate her first birthday April 6, next. The Van Hoesens live at 84 Fordson Avenue, Eden Park, R. I.

Forrest Paige, member of the teaching staff at the Newton High School, reports his new house address to be 1370 Walnut Street, Newton Highlands, Mass.

W. K. (Andy) Macfarlane is senior member of the firm, Macfarlane, Miller & Powell, Inc., investment management, 341 Madison Avenue, New York. Andy formed the firm a few months ago for the purpose of working with a limited clientele from a management point of view.

Lloyd Gallup is Junior Warden of Brainard Lodge, No. 102, A. F. & A. M., New London, Conn.

1924

Ed Place, of the sports staff of the Boston Transcript, has changed his address to 1815 Beacon Street, Brookline, Mass. Ed's youngest observed her first Christmas in December, and Ed says that naturally she was the center of attraction.

The Alumni Office has learned with regret of the death of W. Arnold Herridge who died in a sanatorium at Chestnut Hill, Pa., August 7, 1932, after a long illness. Born in Dover, N. H., May 7, 1900, the son of William G. and Lenora J. (Clough) Herridge, he prepared at Dover High School and finished his studies at Brown in February, 1925. His first work was with the Newberry chain stores in Shamokin, Pa. Then he became treasurer and vice-president of Rieger's, Inc., Dover, N. J., and at the time of his last illness was with his father, who owned and operated a five-and-ten-cent store in Doylestown Pa. He was married June 30, 1925, to Miss Mildred H. DeWitt, who survives him, together with a daughter, Milly Lou, his parents, and three sisters. Mrs. Herridge is now living at 9 Onondaga Street, Skaneateles, N. Y. Arnold was a member of Phi Sigma Kappa.

Nathan B. Silverman has removed his office for the general practice of law to 200 Atlantic Street, Stamford, Conn.

1925

Roger Cummings, who received the degree of B.D. from Berkeley Divinity School, Berkeley, Calif., last June, has returned to Henzada, Burma, a correspondent on the Pacific Coast reports. He taught for several years in Henzada before coming back to this country to begin his theological studies.

Hal Neubauer, who is studying law and also coaching at Lawrenceville, made one of his infrequent trips to New York during the Christmas recess, met some of his old friends at the Brown luncheon on December 30, and was one of the after-luncheon speakers.

Ralph Brown, as chairman of the Prize Scholarship Committee of the Brown Club of Chicago, was the active factor in putting the scholarship over in style. His regular work is with The Delphian Society, which is "organized in the interests of higher education, personal improvement and social progress." Ralph's offices are at 307 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

1926

Jim Stifler has been acting as coach of the East Providence Town basketball team, considered one of the strong semi-professional fives in Southern New England.

Fred Pierce is a salesman with the General Electric Supply Corporation, distributors of electrical products, and lives at 225 University Avenue, Providence.

Les Jones has settled, temporarily at least, in East Mansfield, Mass., and is devoting nearly all of his time to writing. When the authors' market has an upswing, Les hopes to be able to cash in with a number of manuscripts.

Jack Beresford is an interior decorator, with his headquarters at 136 East 70th Street, New York.

1927

Wes Stuart, who is working for the Equitable Life Assurance Company in New York, is carrying on his law studies at night.

Ken Bailey, with the W. T. Grant Company, retail stores, is now in the Grant store in Steubenville, Ohio, where his address is 418 Market Street.

Margie A. Carlson, daughter of the Rev. Joel S. Carlson and Mrs. Carlson, died at the Rhode Island Hospital, Providence, January 11. The sympathy of the class is given the Carlsons in their bereavement.

1928

Bill Crull, whose marriage we report in another column, is settled in his new home in Batavia, Ill., where he is with the Campana Corporation, manufacturer of Campana's Italian balm. In a letter the first of

Providence National Bank

ESTABLISHED 1791

CAPITAL.....$1,500,000
SURPLUS.....$2,500,000

Main Office—100 Westminster Street
Branch—Corner Empire and Washington Sts.

Moses J. Barber, Chairman of the Board
Thomas L. Pierce, President
Earl G. Batty, Vice President and Cashier
Charles M. Smith, III, Trust Officer
Frank L. Sawyer, Assistant Cashier
George A. Freeman, Assistant Cashier
Charles L. Eddy, Assistant Cashier
Henry H. Eddy, Assistant Cashier
T. I. Hare Powel, Investment Counsel

Empire St. Branch, Frank L. Sawyer, Manager
Charles L. Eddy, Assistant Manager

Directors

Charles H. Newell	Wilson G. Wing
William Gammell, Jr.	John Nicholas Brown
Moses J. Barber	Thomas L. Pierce
Paul C. DeWolf	Lauriston H. Hazard
Frank E. Richmond	William L. Sweet
Richard S. Aldrich	Frederick T. Moses
Edward P. Jastram	John Ormsbee Ames
Earl G. Batty	Willard I. Angell
A. Livingston Kelley	John B. Lewis
Charles C. Marshall

the year, Bill said that "business is not only good, but excellent. You probably should be shocked by such a statement, but nevertheless, it is the truth. We have finally been able to bring one of our radio programs to the home folks in Providence by way of Station WEAN, and you may have heard some of our 'Fu Manchu' programs."

Chet Cheeseman is art director with the W. A. Rankin Advertising Agency, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. Chet is still a bachelor, but there are reports that he is beginning to weaken.

Nine members of the class were present at the bi-monthly luncheon at Faunce House, Wednesday, January 11. They were Louis Palmer, Ed Howell, Ed Lawrence, Paul Hodge, Nelson Conlong, Nelson Jones, Kent Matteson, Ben Tully and Dick Brennan. On Tuesday, January 17, the Reunion Committee, with Nelson Jones as chairman, held its first formal meeting and decided to start at once to find a suitable place for the reunion. The matter of expense for the reunion was discussed fully, and opinion was that the reunion should cost substantially less than $10 a man, and should include a full program of activities. It was also agreed that a good way to increase interest would be to have regional chairmen to make contact with members in their respective regions. No doubt all of you will be glad to hear that the committee is at work; you can follow developments by reading the ALUMNI MONTHLY regularly.

1929

Ev Wood, in his second year at the Medical School, University of Maryland, is holder of the Samuel Lean Frank Scholarship for 1932-33. Ev is living at 211 W. Madison Street, Baltimore.

Bob Montague, with his LL.B. from Harvard and a certificate showing that he has passed the Massachusetts bar exams, has turned aside from the law to give his time to the study of penology and to actual work in the new science. He is house officer at the State Prison Colony, Norfolk, Mass., which represents the most modern ideas in reformatories, and in his new position Bob is social worker and teacher and director. The Colony, built on the cottage plan to a large extent, now has between 400 and 500 members. The full complement will be about 1200.

Vic Smith, who began his active newspaper career with the Providence Journal, has left the Journal to become a member of the staff of the Providence Visitor, the Roman Catholic newspaper of Rhode Island.

Dave Novick is an instructor in the Department of Economics, New York University, and is working to win his Ph.D. next June. Dave was on the campus one day last month looking up some of his old cronies, and asking about others.

1930

Jack Jelleme is with the Atlantic Lumber Co., Boston, and is living at 58 Perry St., Brookline, Mass.

W. C. Leland, Jr., is a member of the firm of the Frank Osuch Company, insurance, 633 First National Bank Building, Detroit. He and Mrs. Leland, who was Jeanne Dunn and whom he married June 27, 1932, are at home at 640 Parkview Drive, Detroit.

Gus Williams reports a change of address to 1119 Clay Avenue, New York City.

Hal Carver is a member of the Prize Scholarship Committee of the Brown Club of Boston.

1931

Clair Corey and Mrs. Corey, and Mary Jane Corey, are living at 64 School Street, Dedham, Mass., and Clair tells us that he is working by day "and writing reams of letters for positions by night, and hoping some day to do further graduate work. He wants to teach romance languages, and he has hopes of finding a place between now and next fall.

1932

Tom Peterson is a junior highway engineer with the Connecticut State Highway Department, with his headquarters in the Thayer Building, Norwich, Conn.

Ogden Sawyer is working for the Narragansett Electric Company, Providence, as a meter tester.

Bob Stafford is down in Richmond, Va., where he is with the Du Pont Rayon Co., as inspector of throwing machines.

Byron Waterman is studying for his Bachelor of Divinity degree at the Andover-Newton Theological School, Newton Centre, Mass.

Jack Ferreebe has signed with the Equitable Life Assurance Society at 7 East 42nd Street, New York. Any mail for Jack should be sent to the Brown Club, Hotel Wentworth, 59 West 46th Street, and Joe O'Neill will see that Jack gets it promptly.

Sid Goldstein, first year student at Columbia Law School, has received one of the Faculty Scholarships for the present year.

Wendell Barnes is studying law at the University of Michigan, and he tells us that, barring accidents, he will be in Ann Arbor during the winter months until June, 1935.

Milt Bennett and George Lawton are on the sales staff of Bodell & Co., investment securities, 32 Custom House Street, Providence.

Lyndon Burnham is a salesman with Stone & Forsyth Co., Boston, wholesalers of paper, twine, bags and boxes, and is living at 85 Prescott Street, Cambridge, Mass.

John Waters has established his own printing business at 182 Doyle Avenue, Providence, and is doing some interesting work, we hear.

Ed Eveleth has been on a trip around the world, leaving in September and returning home early last month.

Jim Kenney is teaching English at the Brockton High School, Brockton, Mass. His brother Joe is in the Class of 1935.

Bill Larkin, Jr., is assistant to the director of the Holy Name Technical School, Chicago, and is living in that well known city at 6901 Oglesby Avenue.

Jim O'Neill is a practice teacher at the Bordentown, N. J., High School.

* * *

Engagements

Miss Marjorie Stauffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Stauffer of Collingswood, N. J., to Everett C. Neill '24n of New York.

Miss Ida Allenson Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Noble of Central Falls, R. I., to Robert F. Marschner '28 of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Miss Dorothy Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond V. Wilcox of Southwick, Mass., to Robert W. Little '31 of Slatersville, R. I., son of Leonard S. Little '07, and Mrs. Little.

Miss Dorothy Campbell Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen W. Smith of New Haven, Conn., to James W. Hindley '31 of Lonsdale, R. I.

* * *

Weddings

1928—I. Willard Crull and Miss Martha Douglas Carroll of Nashville, Tenn., and New York, were married at the Little Church Around the Corner, New York, August 5, 1932. Richard M. Crull '32, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Weston M. Stuart '27, W. Kenneth Anderson '27, and Enos T. Throop, Jr. '28 were ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Crull are living in Batavia, Ill.

1928—Stanley W. Burgess and Miss Magnhild W. Svendby, daughter of Oscar Svendby of Oslo, Norway, were married in Brooklyn, New York, December 14, 1932. Charles G. Burgess '24, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess are living at 6802 Ridge Boulevard, Brooklyn.

1929—James P. Howell and Miss Mary Anita Pursell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heryer E. Pursell, were married in Kewanee, Ill., December 25, 1932. They are at home at 11027 South Park Avenue, Chicago.

1930—Samuel Vigo and Miss Gertrude Betty Raiffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

advertisers engraving company

66 ORANGE ST. PROVIDENCE, R. I.

TELEPHONE GASPEE 7094

"Picturize your Product"

Joseph Raiffe, were married in New York, November 24, 1932. They are at home at 333 Harvard Street, Cambridge, Mass.

* * *

Births

1911—To Mr. and Mrs. Earle F. Bliss of West Newton, Mass., a son, Carlton Merrill, on December 24, 1932.

1921—To Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Sheldon of West Warwick, R. I., a daughter, Barbara Elizabeth, on January 6, 1933.

1925—To Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gleason of Eden Park, R. I., a daughter, Janet Helen, on November 29, 1932.

1930—To Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Clarke, Jr., of Providence, a son, Richard H. Clarke, Jr., on December 29, 1932.

Alumnae of Brown

By GERTRUDE ALLEN McCONNELL

THE Brown Alumnae Club of Boston entertained Dean Morriss at luncheon at the Women's City Club on January 21st.

The Brown Alumnae Club of Providence is giving a large bridge in Alumnae Hall on February 17th to raise money for the Brown Alumnae Clubs Scholarship Fund. Dean Morriss and the local members of the class of 1932 were the guests of the club at the meeting on January 16th. Margaret Rydberg '28, who spent the past three years as a member of the faculty at the American College in Sofia, Bulgaria, gave a delightful talk on "Bulgarian Customs and Costumes." The club is conducting a successful membership drive.

The Brown Alumnae Club of Southeastern Massachusetts was entertained by the Fall River alumnae on January 28th. Gertrude Allen McConnell brought news of the College.

The Brown Alumnae Club of Worcester County was entertained at the home of Dorris Horne '29 and Grace Horne '30 on December 3rd. Mrs. D. L. Michelson '24 and Irene Burwick '30 were hostesses to the club in January. At the close of the meeting, "Two Slatterns and a King" by Edna St. Vincent Millay was cleverly presented by pupils of Mrs. Michelson. The undergraduate girls who live in Worcester County are to be the guests of the club during the spring recess. Mrs. Leland L. Atwood '17, 319 June Street, was recently elected corresponding secretary of the club.

The Hartford group of the Brown Alumnae Club of Connecticut has had a varied program of monthly meetings which proved most enjoyable. The New Haven alumnae had a supper meeting in December under the leadership of Elizabeth Armstrong Bucholz '27. They are to have another meeting in March.

The Brown Alumnae Club of New York will have Dean Morriss as its guest at a luncheon meeting on February 18th.

* * *

Benefit Concert

Myra Hess, celebrated English pianist, gave a particularly fine concert under the auspices of the Alumnae Association on January 12th in Alumnae Hall. She was enthusiastically received by an appreciative audience.

* * *

CLASS NOTES

1905—Marion Midgley has been giving a series of talks on "Diction" under the auspices of the Boston School Committee over station WAAB.

1907—Professor Leah B. Allen, Director of the Williams Observatory at Hood College, Frederick, Maryland, spoke before the Skycrappers Club at Brown on January 2nd. Her subject was "Other Worlds."

1910—Gwendolen Blodgett Carpenter has written an article on "Rural Problems" which will appear in the March number of Child Welfare.

1911—Dr. Eva Waterman Magoon began a series of talks on January 5th at the Broadway Baptist Church in Providence on "Religion and Health." The audience was a large one and the subject was well received.

1912—Clarice Ryther Kaufman and family have moved from Virginia to 1913 Kenyon Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

1914—Helen H. Briggs is spending the winter at Babson Park, Florida.

1918—Rose Presel and her sister Charlotte gave a two-piano recital at the Chopin Club musical tea in the Churchill House on New Year's Day.

1921—Frances M. Money is Director of the Social Service Department of the University Hospital, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

BOND INVESTMENTS

For Conservative Investors

We specialize in the mortgage bonds of well established public utility companies which are a legal investment for Savings Banks in one or more of the New England States

BODELL & CO.

32 Custom House Street

Bodell Building

PROVIDENCE

PHONE GASPEE 5220

44 WALL STREET
NEW YORK

35 CONGRESS STREET
BOSTON

1924—Myrtle Hodgkins, Medical Supervisor of the Minneapolis General Hospital, and an instructor at the University of Minnesota, visited the Alumnae Office last month.

1925—Helen Smith George (Mrs. Albert) has moved to 42 Morris Street, Hamden, Conn.

1925—Elinor Van Dorn Smith is Assistant Professor of Bacteriology at Smith College.

1926—Deborah Burton is spending the winter in St. Petersburg, Florida.

1928—Elizabeth Saunders is assistant to the pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in Buffalo. The church has a membership of over 2,000, and Miss Saunders finds her work "most satisfying."

1929—Annette Mitchell is working in the Edgewood Branch of the Providence Public Library.

1930—Pauline Crockett is teaching in Thornton Academy, Saco, Maine.

1930—Dorothy A. Hill is teaching in East Providence High School.

1931—Alice Kennedy spent last year at the Sorbonne, and is now teaching French in Chicopee, Mass.

1931—Eleanor Smith is working in Portsmouth for the New Hampshire Unemployment Relief Commission.

1931—Mary A. Trainor is assistant to John P. Hartigan '10, R. I. Attorney General. Her office is in the new Court House at the corner of Benefit and College Streets.

1931—Eleanor Washington is manager of a lending library of the Lee & Kirby Fiction Shelf Corporation. She is working in Scranton, Penn.

1932—Mary Coy has completed a three months' laboratory course at the Rhode Island Hospital.

1932—Sylvia Hotchkiss is studying at Yale and living at 112 Dwight Street, New Haven.

1932—Harriet Lawton is doing volunteer work as psycho-metrician at the Mental Hospital at Howard.

Engagements

1927—Theta C. Holmes to John B. Wolf, Jr., University of Colorado. Mr. Wolf spent a year in graduate work at Northwestern and is now completing his work for a Ph.D. in history at the University of Minnesota, where Miss Holmes is also doing graduate work.

1928—Emily E. Grainger to George Clarkson Whitney '33 of Worcester, Mass.

1928—Ida A. Noble to Robert Frederic Marschner '28 of New Rochelle, N. Y.

1928—Gertrude Grant Potter to Albert Samuel Priestly, Iowa State College. Mr. Priestly is connected with the Chase National Bank in New York City.

1932—Barbara B. Evans to Thomas B. Knox, M. I. T. '31. Mr. Knox is an aeronautical engineer and is connected with the East Boston Airport. Miss Evans is attending the Prince School at Simmons College.

1932—Sally W. Ward to John Moore Hills of Chicago. Mr. Hills graduated from Lafayette in 1931 and is now in his second year of graduate work at the University of Chicago, working for his Ph.D. in geology. Miss Ward expects to go to Africa next month with her parents, returning to New York early in September.

* * *

Weddings

1926—Mary V. Kenny was married to Aubrey Wilfred Landers, Jr., M.S. '29, on July 30, 1932, in New York City. Their attendants were Margaret I. Kenny '27 and Dr. Lawrence S. Kennison '28. Mr. Landers is a member of the Mathematics Department of Brooklyn College of the City of New York, and Mrs. Landers is an instructor in mathematics at Hunter College of the City of New York.

1927—Doris Heaton was married to Charles M. Nash, Georgetown University, on December 31, 1932. Mr. and Mrs. Nash are living at 6501 Ridgewood Avenue, Chevy Chase, Maryland.

1927—Mildred Thornton was married to Professor Edward Eugene Chipman, Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, in July, 1932. Professor and Mrs. Chipman are living at 16 East Pleasant Street, Hamilton, N. Y.

1928—Marie Schack was married to Perry Van Ness Green, Storrs College, on August 17, 1932. Mr. and Mrs. Green are living at 29 Dwight Street, New Haven, Conn.

1930—Gladys Frankenberg was married to Bernard Zisser on December 30, 1932, in New York City.

1932—Julia Arrighi is married to Anthony J. Laulia '30, and is living at 73 Main Street, Lodi, N. J.

* * *

Births

1923—To Dr. and Mrs. Leon H. Hetherington (Helen Avery), a daughter, Ann Hetherington, on December 19, 1932, in Pittsburgh, Penn.

1923—To Mr. and Mrs. Edson C. Lockwood (Dorothy Patton), a second son, Michael Chapman Lockwood, on January 8, 1933, in Madura, South India.

1923—To Mr. and Mrs. Martin S. Payne (Mary S. Brown), a daughter, Mary Elizabeth Payne, on January 4, 1933.

1924—To Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey A. Hobart (Jane Luce), a daughter, Barbara Hobart, on September 25, 1932.

1924—To Mr. and Mrs. Merrill L. Healey (Dorothy Bundy), a daughter, Merrilyn Anne, on January 10, 1933.

1925—To Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adler (Celia Ernst), a second daughter, Nancy Ann Adler, on September 20, 1932.

1927—To Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Bucholz (Elizabeth Armstrong), a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, on January 13, 1933.

1932—To Mr. and Mrs. John S. Rigby (Mary Gladding), a daughter, Joan Ruth, on January 16, 1933.

Pembroke Chronicle

By JANE SANFORD '35

PRESCRIPTIONS

...exactly as written

When a doctor's prescription comes to us for compounding we consider it as a means toward someone's good health. Accordingly we practice utmost accuracy in compounding, using the finest quality ingredients the world affords.

Bring YOUR prescriptions here.

BLANDING'S

160 Westminster St. 6 Wayland Square

THE biggest thing of the month was the drive carried out to raise money for needy students. At a chapel meeting before Christmas, it had been decided again to use the money collected for helping students of Pembroke. There are quite a few girls to whom a small amount of money means the difference between staying in college or leaving. And since the scholarship fund provided at Pembroke is not adequate to take care of all cases, S. G. A. last year and this has undertaken a drive to raise money for the girls here.

A system of pledges by individual girls for at least $1 or any amount: a tax on different non-essential things, such as one cent for cigarettes bought, late to chapel, eating between meals, cut and late classes, etc.; a golden rule dinner at the dormitories; a number of large contributions by various clubs—all helped to raise the total collected to over $800. The S. G. A., in conjunction with Miss Morriss and Miss Moar, will apportion the money to those who are most deserving. This is a splendid showing by the girls, and those girls who receive aid appreciate it not only as aid, but as coming from the girls themselves.

The Sophomores held their annual class dance Friday, January 20, in the Crystal Room. The affair was given to raise money for the masque to be held in the spring. Mary Watkins, class president, took charge of the arrangements.

Basketball is well under way and the class tournaments are being rapidly played off, with the Junior class apparently ahead. The Varsity is being chosen, but no definite squad has as yet been selected. Not until after exams are over do Varsity games start, so that there is no news on who will compose the team or what teams we will play. Swimming also begins after the exams. There seems to be strong competition for the swimming team, as a group of especially able Freshmen swimmers came in this year.

Here and there: Pembroke is to represent Poland in the Model League of Nations assembly to be held at Smith College. Last year the League met here. International Relations Club has been having some very interesting meetings, with the students discussing current questions very intelligently. A good deal of interest has been shown in the club lately, due to its open discussions and the opportunity for learning about current questions.

ACCURATE INVESTMENT ANALYSIS

How it can be applied to your own securities

DID you ever observe how a physician goes about diagnosing a patient's illness? He searches for symptoms, makes blood tests, heart tests, X-ray examinations, utilizing every possible means to expose contributory causes.

Assembling the facts disclosed he considers them collectively and is thus able to interpret them correctly. If he's at all uncertain, he consults one or more specialists to verify his conclusions.

The physician's procedure is, in the sense of thoroughness, similar to our analyses of customers' securities which we manage under Agency Service. Each security is studied and the record, position, management and outlook of the issuing Company carefully scrutinized.

The facts gathered by research are weighed singly and collectively and interpreted by a group of our officers and then by a group of our directors. Here you have actual facts, intimate knowledge, broad experience blended by group judgment, all of which can be applied to the management of your own securities.

This may be just the type of service you have been looking for. Why not discuss it with us?

→ We have no securities for sale ←

 Rhode Island
Hospital Trust Company

Pawtucket — Providence — Woonsocket

Why do we throw away 27% of this Leaf?

*Another Reason
why Chesterfields are Milder—*

A LEAF of Bright Tobacco or of Kentucky Burley Tobacco has in it about 27% in weight of stem.

The stem is woody. It does not contain the same ingredients as the tobacco. It does not burn like tobacco.

There would be necessarily a sort of rankness or bitterness about the smoke from the stem. This 27% in weight of stem, therefore, is removed before the leaf tobacco is used in Chesterfields.

Everything is done that can be done to make Chesterfield milder and taste better.

